

1. Evidence:

The main evidence and testimony will be included in this document. Additional evidence will be included at the bottom of this document, which you may view after fully reading this one.

Before we begin with our primary evidence, some screenshots will show a deleted account - the explanation behind this is that ArmoredPatrolHero's old Discord account was deleted back in early 2021, due to "spreading misinformation". In the table below is proof of this.

Allegations	Evidence
Miscellaneous
Miscellaneous

This part will be divided into two sections of evidence that is at the centre of this case. Section I will explain accusations of APH sexting minors and neglecting to regulate NSFW in his group (which suggests that he was OK with minors viewing it, which is illegal)

2. Pedophilia & Harassment

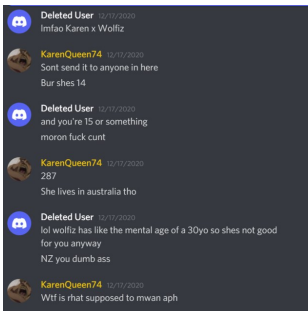

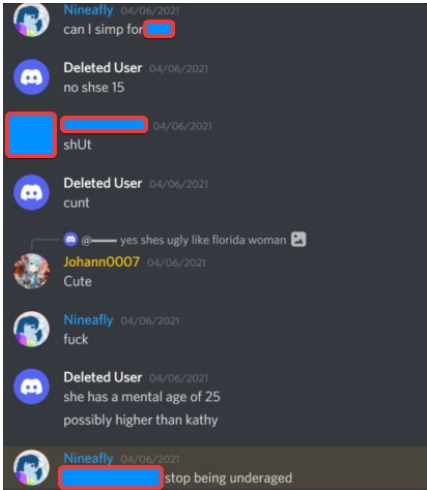

Before we begin, here is a screenshot of proof of ArmoredPatrolHero's age to validate these claims against him, as he is an adult and was one at the time of these incidents.

ArmoredPatrolHero is guilty of being a paedophile, and one of his victims is still under the age of 18, so their name will not be revealed; however, they are a former member of BoAP. This included shipping them with other minors in BoAP and being sexually suggestive with them, including hinting at a "BoAP orgy".

Kathy735 was also involved in some of this behaviour. (S)he threatened the victim after they attempted to share information about this incident to other members in BoAP in an attempt to suppress it.

Katelyn537, who is Kathy's supposed sister, would promote incestual and orgies. A channel in the AP discord server named #the-dungeon had a description that went as follows: "Katelyn537 has joke/troll orgies here for fun. (Don't blame me!)" This was removed when a user with the BetterDiscord plugin had pointed this out and it was then removed in late 2019.

ArmoredPatrolHero also lied about being the successor of Armored Patrol, and asked people not to contact Wingman about the new 9.5. It can be implied from this that he was not given permission. Below is evidence of this announcement to his members.

Illegitimacy

There were also channels marked as NSFW in the old Armored Patrol Discord server. Efforts to prevent minors from accessing these channels were scarce, suggesting that ArmoredPatrolHero and Kathy (possibly the same person) did not care if said minors accessed and talked in the NSFW channels.

Below will be a series of screenshots of APH explaining the logging system for AP v9.5, originally made to stalk "clan gangsters" and other users that BoAP harassed.

The data cards are printed at player leave time, so the number values are averages for the gamemode session, determined by "Client Update".

Server logs [redacted]
These are Server logs. They are printed when server close. The value data is averaged taken from ALL players that were on the server. This is good for debugging issues and performance with specific servers, and did not serve any other real purposes besides performance benchmarking.

These are Player tags, they can't be used when other users online. This page shows every single player that joined the server during its entire lifetime, and all data on Roblox, this works for each server's profile.
 Name of the tag: The number before the username is the account's age (in Roblox, in days), and the number after the username is the account's User ID (from the Roblox profile page on the Roblox website).
 The Player tags aren't always in groups because there is a Deleted User role for each section.

Fun fact: The Server Log for VIP servers shows the server owner's profile picture and a link to the server owner's profile instead of showing the v3 logs and BoA.

Miscellaneous

Fearmongering over a situation that the AP staff team caused by neglecting to moderate their Discord server.

3. Testimony Former Staff & Members:

Several people have testified about their experiences in BoAP. Their testimonies are listed below in the table.

Statement No	Testimony
1	"My experience in BoAP can be boiled down to "APH is not well in the head, and we are all living with it." I didn't realize it at first, but towards when I left, it became a lot more apparent to me. APH would talk about his life situation fairly frequently to everyone in the BoAP text channel. He would also go on these nonsensical tirades about a ton of different things. Number one I can think of is the Coronavirus pandemic. It wasn't just general distrust, it was lunacy."
2	"APH promoted an atmosphere of fear and misunderstanding within BoAP for the period that I was unfortunate enough to be there. He is volatile and highly aggressive when confronted with different viewpoints, especially concerning the management of "his" game. He regularly threatened members in these situations, indicative of a total inability to accept criticism. At one point I became aware of several "interrogation rooms", private discord channels in which he intensely questioned members of the group suspected of collusion with one or more nebulous and poorly defined enemies. Most notable was a user named ViadOPS, who without a shred of evidence was blamed to an almost cartoonish extent for recurring unrest in the group during the years following his departure. APH is in possession of a log of every single public and private chat message ever sent on AP v9.5 over the course of my time there, amounting to well over ten million messages. He recorded player timezones, the aspect ratio of the player's game window, as well as their mouse sensitivity. K/D ratios were stored in another discord channel, as well as the joining/leaving of each player. He had a permanent tracker on Wingman8's account. He constructed an elaborate web of lies around several of my friends, often resorting to demonising them when they were not present to defend themselves. APH has permitted v9.5 to flounder, citing health issues but refusing to bring even good friends into his circle of trust to work on the game. It is my firm belief that AP 2 will never surpass wingman's v9.3 and APH's disastrous management of the game is the primary reason for this. A sample of the chat log is shown below, including a particularly colourful message from APH, playing as LudicrousMode here." <pre> [6/9/2019 - 08:15:54] [b314e3d-6ab-49c7-959e-b64355ae4915] [LEGENDARYOFSPACE] help alpha [6/9/2019 - 08:15:52] [83935800-8676-4ba-9284-59174c598885] [Kadin789he2nd] Well anyway [6/9/2019 - 08:15:57] [83935800-8676-4ba-9284-59174c598885] [VanillaCat1000] REPARATIONS! 3	"A lot happened in BoAP regarding behavior. At first when I joined, I had been treated fine and well by the members, but after a while there was a lot of harassment, more building up than I had seen before. Mainly this harassment was by //// and his friends such as ////, mainly against people like me, ////, and possibly ////, although I'm not completely certain on ////. Regarding harassment, there was not only verbally harassing people because of stuff they liked to do or who they were, but also sexual harassment, most likely from people like Kathy, Kate, and Johann. Mainly Kathy or Kate, or both, were sexually harassing ////, and ////was on many occasions sexually harassing me. Along with that, not just BoAP members were being horrible, but also the BoAP owner himself, APH. At first he was fine, but over time he had begun to talk about and believe in extreme beliefs that I believe would be extremely right winged, republican beliefs. Stuff such as believing COVID-19 was created with the intent to kill off a bunch of the older population on purpose, and believing a lot of it was just a hoax by the government. Along with that, his mental health was horrible, constantly letting out his anger on other people and never being able to control it."
4	"APH's fall can be said to have begun when he started using cheats to torment deliberate trolls. He then began to torment run-of-the-mill toxic kids with cheats. When some BoAP members took issue with this, APH revealed his flawed personality by refusing to admit to any wrongdoing whatsoever and never changing his mind. This personality defect became more apparent as time passed and the community got into more arguments with APH, some of the

5	regular members quit when they realized his flawed personality, with other members following suit later down the line after failing to persuade APH time and time again" "As someone that knew Vlad0ps I would like to say he challenged APH and got into lots and lots of political arguments. The real trouble happened when APH and his friends beat up enemy clans when APH would use admin commands and threaten to ban people for beating him in a game. They also said Vlad hacked people and attacked the ap discord but it was another unstable admin that did it by himself. Like dude Vlad didn't hack APHs girlfriend either idk why the man is used as his personal scapegoat and boogeyman. It just doesn't make sense. APH would give his informants rewards and trust if they could show bad stuff said behind his back so that Kathy could talk and then threaten to kick them out of the group if they did not comply. Admin powers were given to people that were friends of APH but not ones that were qualified as APH would refuse to add people's suggestions to the game if he didn't like them just to spite them. He disabled the BTR spawner for over a month because of an alt account that was killing him with it. The worst thing about this all is that APH's paranoia and power control ruined the group more than Vlad talking about what he disagreed with, which many people agreed with. Because that's what scared APH the most. Losing control and public opinion of his group. The dude threatens to demote people on a regular basis. Isn't it weird that he had some of the highest admin turnover rate of any roblox game I've seen? Nearly all the former admins I know don't trust him because he has villainised them all. I want to say most people liked talking to Vlad since he was open and could see the group for how insane and uncharacteristic it was. We came here for the promise of a future, and was used to be guilty to relationships and fix APHs depression which we would get blamed for if we criticised his admin abuse. There was a culture of fear in BOAP. And many of us were in our teens."
6	Section I: Personal Experiences I experienced a lot of peculiar happenstances and odd occurrences through what i'd say was a relatively short administration career, hell I was only appointed as an administrator due to the fact I created a small studio project over a fallen friend within BoAP itself (context later), because I was some pillar of the community, someone everyone should strive to be! Look how well that turned out huhn? I'll cut to the chase and keep things pretty clear, The early days of APH were pretty normal, odd rants here or there but nothing too Crazy. Its when we began to question what was happening with other members of our community, relating to sanity and wellbeing, that he started to get rather aggressive, I personally created a small community of admins and BoAP, amply named "The Vault" to store personal information, and try to understand what was happening within the higher sphere, because I cared for everyone and wanted to know what was wrong, because no one would tell me. Instead of a pat on the back or a thank you for caring about us, I was yelled at. They didn't take kindly to me trying to figure things out, they went through a lot of info, most of it was innocent, nothing too out of the ordinary, but my god his paranoia was through the roof. I got along with most people fine though, no arguments were caused by me in the early stages, besides fighting in private servers and beating friends in what were meant to be "friendly" and non competitive tournaments, to which i remember fondly a guy i got along with very well known as "Kadin" something, literally yelling and screaming when I beat him. I did not understand what caused him to react so negatively. I also experienced various lies and dramas, one of the more profound was Purple, known as "Coates" creating an entire persona of a friend of his who had committed suicide before anyone knew. He was essentially puppeting a dead corpse around, trying his best to impersonate them. This relates to that studio project I made out of kindness. I cannot remember why I spent hours of my life making something for someone's puppet of a person. Regarding NSFW Things I saw and was more or less "dragged" into orgies with other BoAP members, and even from APH himself, witnessed his plans for a "BoAP meetup" at some point, which would most likely would've been a massive orgy within his new house he had made, many members, primarily kathy and Katlyn were very fond of this idea, (kathy and katlyn themselves would brand themselves as "the group sluts" or something or other.) (I would also like to quickly clarify that minors were in this group, possibly in large majority, my memory is hazy about that. I would say I was at least 16-15 at the time of these occurrences.) Section II: Relationships and Information My main gripe with APH was, as a former associate of mine has stated to me on the matter, his constant use of admin commands and abusive natures towards community members, Regarding BoAP itself, it was basically a clan who targeted trolls, other clans, or more commonly, small friend groups or small groups of community members. We would literally go out of our way to hunt people and forcibly mock and make them rage quit, over and over. And if anyone was good enough to fight back against us, we'd mark them in our tracker and hunt them down as "vengeance" and "dealing with toxic players." APH was a firm believer in right wing politics, praising trump and republicans alike, along with believing in a what I would call a "homemade conspiracy theory" about Frankenstein Controllers controlling people via satellites or some shit, robotic gangster ghetto thugs with the frankenstein controls!!!! You're all fucking sheeple! (he never referred to us as sheeple but you get the point) He was also an incredibly demanding and outright aggressive person if you did something he didn't like. He has yelled at someone for recreating the AP uniform, demanding them to take it down, yelling and screaming and kicking at them like some child. He has yelled at someone for owning a probably "stolen" copy of AP 9.5, same thing. Kicking, screaming, threatening, harassing, etc etc.
7	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What was your overall experience in BoAP? I mean it was good and bad in a sense. Most of the time I lurked and

only joined in on some conversations, but I was decently active over the years. There were some good people on the server and I enjoyed having gaming sessions with them and such. But yeah especially for a lot of the "top dogs" in BoAP they were kinda questionable. At first I kinda thought it was just teenagers trying to be edgy and shit but then I realised they were somehow 20+ and still acting like that.. there were often comments I was uncomfortable with but of course I did not say anything so as to not cause drama. Plus tbh I wasn't sure if I was reading half the situations wrong or not lol. Basically there were a lot of comments about underage people in the server (and there were a lot) of just like weird ass shit but it would be framed as a "joke" etc

but yeah I always found it weird how everyone kept saying I had an older "mental age" n shit .. a common thing that would happen is people esp aph or kathy talking about doing sexual acts with me once I was of age and stuff .. which again, weird as fuck but yeah I feel the content that was often talked about in the boap discord was very not age appropriate, and I mean it's not like teenagers don't talk about sex, obviously I talked about some stuff but I just think the fact that there were a lot of younger people in that server that was run by 20+ year olds, and they created an environment where talking about those sorts of things was welcomed or "the norm"

- What do you think APH was like and how did he behave?
dudes messed up is the best way I can put it. I tried helping him a bit with his mental health issues but he would not take any piece of advice I'd give him. It was basically like the only thing I could ever do to help him was just "to be there because he's one of the only few people he trusts" which again,, screams of grooming. I don't like to talk about people's mental health struggles in this way and I have never encountered a situation where I've felt like this before, but near the end it almost felt quite burdensome to have to therapy him when he didn't even want it...

And I haven't even touched on all the like neo nazi anti vaxx shit lol

For context I'm not a huge political person, and I obviously don't know everything about politics. But I do know myself personally that I am left leaning in most situations. I also want to say that as long as you're respectful, I don't want to discriminate between people's political beliefs as everyone has a different view of life. That aside though, yeah APH and Kathy are very much extremist right wing to the point of being neo nazis. They are both very firm believers in conspiracy theories, especially those to do with vaccinations and general medicine in general. I somewhat understand why they think this way because of their background, but I still think it's harmful to be spilling all this conspiracy bullshit to a bunch of impressionable teenagers in a private discord server. I did often have discord with them about our differing political beliefs but it never got to the point where I got banned or anything for it, but again I'm not a very confrontational person so theres that. Plus the whole sieg heil and heil hitler stuff was quite common to be honest I just thought I was being crazy thinking that APH's behavior was off but after I talked with [Rd] about it for a bit it's clear I wasn't the only one that has noticed it, and it seems like hes like this to most people in BoAP

He shouldn't be making kids games that's for sure and shouldn't be a role model to younger people, I noticed in the normal AP server there are a lot of kids in there that idolize him and beg for spots to get into BoAP The whole private server by invite thing is just a bad idea and obviously creates a big gap in power between APH and normal players especially if they are literal children or teenagers

You were kicked for instantly accusing of admin abuse.
That is not allowed
When it is not justified
No BoAP member would ever act that way (as your friend did). What do you have to say for yourself? You don't hang out with good

During many people's testimonies, that would make mention of Kathy and her role in escalating, or "investigating" situations. These would often be filled with excessively confrontative attitudes, threats, and other behaviours. Kathy has been known to use LudicrousMode and be informed on all matters of APH's personal life. Yet there is no proof that she is a unique person, preferring to confide all her information for "anonymity" purposes. Going far out to conceal then hide her existence away from APH's past relationships under the impression that Kathy would be speculated to be an APH alt.

During many AP battles when APH has relied on help, he has not once played with Kathy, Kate, or the AP Bot AI to assist him. With these individuals rarely if ever chatting at the same time. APH owns multiple computers for this, and has used multiple devices at once, and was painfully aware of multiple game instances despite remarks in late 2018. With members and people from APH's relationships going back as far as 2018 to speculate that the Bot and Kathy and her sister (Katelyn, also known as Kate) were not real. The use of Kathy and Kate as the "BoAP Sluts" was a frequently positive talking point for APH and the group used to rile up members into what were referred to as "BoAP" orgies.

The supposed claims of the AP Bot AI included being able to go rogue and read APH's private messages, watch videos, chat on Discord, and play the game. However it was incapable of playing the game and chatting at the same time due to "processing power". With the bot frequently going rogue to harass members that APH did not like under another guise. Likewise, Kathy had also frequently gone rogue to guilt trip members of the group, victim blaming, and to get info on people that disagreed with APH. Kathy was the only "Developer" granted to make changes on the game, alongside ArmoredPatrolHero. Her official title is "Co-Owner".

One of the most notorious uses of the Kathy account was to facilitate "BoAP" orgies, sext younger members, promote her background of incestual lesbian sex with her younger sister (Katelyn), and to primarily gather info on members. Kate had also sexted several 14 and 15 year olds members despite being 18, having engaged in self-admitted "relationships" with these individuals. This outrageous behaviour was frequently manifestant with the K Sisters, APH having okayed it at every level. Not only was all the private information that was sent to Kathy then immediately 'sent' to ArmoredPatrolHero, it was used to test the trust of each member, with many of these people being under 16 and 18. This created a culture of distrust among BoAP members and turned people away from the group. It should be noted that these members would rarely if-ever talk at the same time.

Every user we could interview would always attest to how Kathy manipulated them to buy APH's background story, to justify and then make other members uncomfortable with her sexual comments. With underage members being encouraged to enjoy orgies or the "NSFW" channel at APH's behest. The AI Bot was used to harass people openly in servers, and attack members every time APH was "eating at dinner". That is no exaggeration. That's the real excuse used by him every single time.

While Kathy and Kate were used to explain APH's depression and struggle, they were extensively used for sexting dozens of underage users, with many people becoming traumatised when they realised they were not real, and were used to extensively manipulate them. With these accounts encouraging people to follow orders for the unconditional sake of helping APH. It is highly unusual that different personalities in life revolve around one person, however their world consisted of the sole and unquestioning act of helping ArmoredPatrolHero and then disappearing online until a new crisis would arise. The majority of former BoAP members that knew APH do not believe these accounts are real, and cannot confirm their existence.

5. APH's Confession

On the 17th October 2022, ArmoredPatrolHero confessed to all the claims in this document and more. ArmoredPatrolHero was questioned by senior IRT representatives starting on the 16th.

Initially denying all allegations, ArmoredPatrolHero began to realise the gravity of the situation. After some of his close friends joined in, he admitted to owning the accounts Kathy and Katelyn and apologised in private for his actions.

The further contents of this document includes decisive evidence of the wrongdoing of ArmoredPatrolHero, the names of those who helped him and the evidence to prove as such.

6. Additional Evidence

This evidence has been extracted from chat logs of old and current servers belonging to Beasts of Armored Patrol and their "defence" group, BoAP Defense Team. The tool is known as DiscordChatExporter, and can be used to archive channels or entire servers. For this reason, screenshots will look different than regular Discord messages (most avatars will not load if the chat log is old), but will still have message IDs attached to them that will be shown here. Also note that the screenshots of groups of messages are NOT ALL FROM the same time period - they are grouped together due to a common keyword. This document is incomplete.
