This means nothing except it's a bad look to fire people on Christmas. That is all this is. And the people doing the firing and discipline want to be on leave for the holidays and Use or Lose leave. That and they're figuring out the procedures so they don't do anything that's not completely legal. Notice in a govexec article the justice department was the one going ahead so they and the lawyers in the Justice Department figure out their procedure and then give it to the rest of the agencies to start doing it in January.

These people should get fired by Christmas. They are violating a direct order and putting themselves, their co-workers and their agency's mission in peril

Good decision. Better decision, claim mission accomplished and remove the mandate entirely. If herd immunity is not reached with 96% compliance then vaccination as a means to defeat CoV-SARS2 is a lost cause anyway.

We agree. No one should be forced to get the Trump vaccines. Rushed and probably deadly. Joe should be protecting us from Trumps abomination,

The only vaccine that is fully FDA approved is Comirnaty and that is not available in the US. The others are still under the EUA law. According to the EUA law, it is against the law to mandate an EUA vaccine. Since Comirnaty is not available in the US they are giving only EUA approved vaccines which cannot be mandated. I know this because I have the fact sheets on all the vaccines and I have a copy of the EUA law.

Based on our research, we rate FALSE the claim that Pfizer's FDA-approved coronavirus vaccine is not yet available in the U.S. The agency approved the vaccine for most Americans in August, and more than 104 million people have received two doses. The formulation of Pfizer's shot did not change when it was renamed Comirnaty following full FDA approval.

Libruls can also read and know that Pfizer's vaccine is one of the 3 fully FDA approved vaccines. They were originally approved under an EUA, but now all have been approved. Their efficacy and safety have now been verified by the fact that over 200 million in the US and almost a billion around the world have used these safely.

False. The people the order subjects vaccines to are all over 18.

False. More lying

You claimed Pfizer was still on an Emergency Use Authorization. That's false. It was fully certified in August.

Then you peddled some babble about it not being fully approved for young kids.

The people subject to the order are all 18 and up. The federal government does not employ those under 18.

You make up stupid stuff
