While we have to wait another week for Laur's live court shitshow, let us remind ourselves what the court is willing to hear verses the schizo hurricane Laur wishes to blurt out on record: Laur's request to stay the eviction; her request for her lawyer to be withdrawn from the case; and her motion to seal the case record.

WebCivil Supreme - Motion Detail

Court: Queens Supreme Court
Index Number: 703276/2026
Case Name: In the Matter of the Application of LAURA TRUEMAN vs. ZHEN, VINCENT
Case Type: SP-Other
Track: Standard

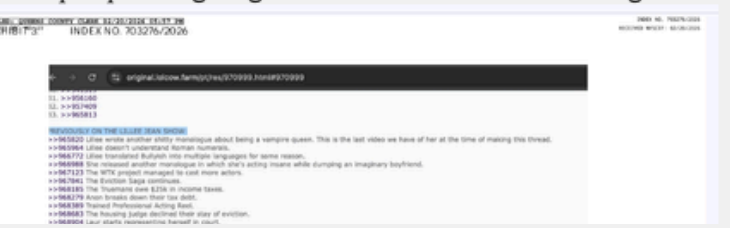

Motion Number	Date Filed	Filed By	Relief Sought	Submit Date	Answer Demanded	Status	Order Signed Date
3	02/13/2026		Seal		No	Before Justice: Greenberg, Hon. Ira R.
2	02/13/2026	PETITIONER	Attorney - Disqualify/Relieve/Substitute/Withdraw		No	Before Justice: Greenberg, Hon. Ira R.
1	02/05/2026	PETITIONER	stay		No	Before Justice: Greenberg, Hon. Ira R.

She did not motion to add over five hundred parties to her civil eviction case, or file a case in criminal court against the alleged crime syndicate who allegedly caused Laur not to pay her rent for three years.

Sigh. The mysterious lolcow plot armor continues to protect the Truemans from any real life consequences, as least for another week.

As for what she was thinking by submitting a portion of the most recent lolcow thread on her history, I can't figure that out. Note that each link in the screenshot is purple, meaning Laur has clicked on every single link. Maybe if she spent less time reading about people laughing at her and more time earning income, she wouldn't be evicted into the cold February streets.

n remarkably well-behaved this week compared to her schizo sperg from 2/4/26 - 2/20/26, but she couldn't resist nother filing today in advance of her in-person court date on Monday.

requesting an emergency adjournment of the case she filed, for reasons we won't know until Monday. But the n adjournment is to request to delay a court date for good cause and propose a future date.

sn't responded since 2/17, when the reiterated their direction for her to show up and fight the eviction order in is coming Monday. I doubt they grant this request.

Laur seems to be panicking in the run-up to her Monday, March 9th court date, because she has penned yet another personal missive to the judge. This time, she is pleading with him not to put her case on YouTube or public access TV.

I can't see the letter until the judge decides whether to seal this case, but I'd put money on this letter containing some prime schzoid milk about stalkers and crime syndicates... in her eviction appeal.

All the schizo stuff is filed under motion 3, same with the 2 new ones. Laur is already fucked but she's going to treat the judge like her therapist and fuck herself even more. Do they even record eviction cases? It amazes me how important Laur and LJ think they are. They don't want anyone to see the court case because they're all going to look like gigantic schizos and we might see Earl's ever changing disability. The sad fact is that they're not even popular lolcows. People went to the courts to see Rackets and Chris' trials, no one gives enough of a shit about them to go watch an eviction. Didn't Laur try to get Rackets disbarred for talking to dear sneeder once or was that another cow?

Another day, with more of Laur taking Bo Burnham's song "Repeat Stuff" way too seriously.

Laur has filed two more letters to the judge, begging him not to allow her eviction case to be broadcast as allegedly that will pla Laur and her daughter - but not her so-called disabled husband? - at deep risk to their personal safety.

How is her safety threatened? Why, people're bein' mean, ya honah! They're laughin' at her!

 Speak o the devil, she doesn't think she's annoyed the judge enough yet so today she sent him a person screed. She's unhinged and not doing herself or her family any favors. This judge was just sworn (at Supreme Court level) ia little over a month ago and he goes by the books.

 Even more filings. Perhaps she keeps sending letters to the judge complaining about people posting screenshots of the docket since she's decided to call it illegal data scrapping. How irritated is the judge going to be about having three letters in a row sent to him that aren't about the case but an international cult of youtubers who Laur thinks is in a RICO conspiracy?
