

This part of the document serves as the full explanation/response to these allegations, and evidence of about what April has done

For further context, feel free to go back to the intro part of the document.

For the current allegations about me supposedly doing "stuff" with my freshly born and or 3-4 year old nephew, this is not true. The nephew mentioned in this allegation is 13 years old, I am 15. He and I along with my other nephew do make explicit jokes, not about one another, but about inappropriate subjects in general. Ranging from girls or just being gay, teenage boy shit. They are not straight forward, but subtle. My older brother does the same with them. We all understand that we are joking around with each other. Nothing physical has never and will never happen

About my niece, there isn't much to talk about with this. I have made a lot of disgusting tasteless jokes in my past. It was just a part of who I was. I found it funny when it really was not. What actually happened is that my niece was sitting on my lap, that's all, not sexual in any capacity. And I assume april made it seem as if i molested her or assaulted her or something along those lines which i did not for the stuff that she claimed in the three screenshots alice sent me, here is my explanation/response

First of all, this is immediately after me and her broke up. Right before, I made a joke saying that I was a faggot and would never like her completely unserious. That caused her to crash all the way out calling me a tranny, saying that she dated me because I look like a chick, and admitting to cheating on me multiple times while we were dating. About the alleged molestation I did not do this, the real story behind it is that my nephews and I make explicit jokes from time to time not towards each other but in general my older brother does the same thing, nothing physical ever happened. yes this is still wrong but is completely rooted in irony and even by themselves they make these kinds of jokes and moving forward i will not make any kind of jokes like this again.

About my niece, this is another lie she completely made up to deter my image, my niece was sitting on my lap which is completely normal and regular for family members to do and she took it as molestation.

About the child pornography this is also a complete lie and actually the opposite, April has a private/locked folder on her iPhone where she has shown me CSAM/CSEM content unwarranted she most likely has deleted it by now.

About my mother knowing, like I said before about my nephew and niece both situations were completely taken out of context so this is another lie, I don't know where she got the sister part from my sister knows we make inappropriate jokes.

Damian is going to usil

Jail

The police didn't call my mom. It was whoever is in charge of telling victims about their perpetrator, she was being told that my rapist was soon to be put in jail.

(Damian Sean Weister is my rapist, feel free to look him up, that is who is being mentioned here)

The part about me having to hide "bad stuff" is true, however it was not because it was illegal content, it was drawings I had made back when I was 12-13 depicting lolisho, completely fictional. My mother had me hide the drawings because she was worried about the police coming to our house, because at the time I had violated my restraining order between me and my rapist. If I had CSAM content like on my iPad like April claimed, when it got taken by the police due to violating my restraining order, I would have been charged and sent to Juvie.

About sharing my exes nudes I've never done this, I do not know where she got that from, I do not have any explicit photos of any of my exes saved, along with that, I do not have any of her nudes saved either.

IN THE NEXT SCREENSHOT, THERE IS UNBLURRED SELF-HARM

You have been warned

April had sent images to Alice of me sending her self-harm claiming I had done that unprompted and to trigger (?) her

What I did was absolutely true, I did send her self-harm but it was not for the reasons provided. Due to where our friendship had stemmed from, I whole-heartedly believed that she would be alright with me to send her self-harm. She never told me once to not do so but then again it is my fault for assuming.

I do apologize for doing this, and won't do it to anyone in the future regardless of our past

This is contradictory though as April has sent me her unblurred self harm without me asking, I will not show the image here as I care for her privacy and don't want to expose something as vulnerable as that, but if I must, send a to DM me and I will send you the proof.

Part two

Nathan has shown April images of self harm from DMs of an unknown person. When asked who these images are coming from, Nathan responds with "little boy". Again, it's unclear who the source is and it's unclear how young they are. Even if they were to be around the same age as Nathan, the joke is incredibly distasteful and flat out weird.

Other distasteful jokes(?)

IIRC The server I met the person who sent me the self-harm was at least 14, I was also 14 at the time of this screenshot, and I already apologized and explained why I make these jokes

The Xbox thing

J 🍷 smug 17:44

He molested his nephew and groomed little boys on Xbox
And there's proof

I've already explained the situation with my nephew, if you need to refresh your memory feel free to scroll up

About this accusation, April and I were on Xbox, but it was entirely April's idea to do this, I was not in on it whatsoever and I did not talk to either of the boys mentioned. At the time, I did not think she was being serious and I should have ceased all contact then, but because of our past, I thought this was another one of her edgy jokes.

Is there cheese pizza

Real life

It is a known fact that I am a kodocon/lolishocon, and that I am pro-fic/pro-ship which means to me that people should be allowed to consume fiction, and ship fictional characters regardless of how morally correct or taboo it is without getting harassed for it. Me being a kodocon means that I have platonical and maternal sometimes even romantic feelings towards fictional boys and girls, and I find them cute and endearing. Whenever I look at suggestive pieces of either, I myself am not sexually attracted to it, but what is happening in it, I project myself onto the child character. Everything should stay fictional and I strictly believe that none of this should ever cross over into the real world, because there is the potential real children could be harmed. In the image

I was looking for a Lolicon server for her and I to be in and she asks if there is "cheese pizza" which is code for CSAM content.

Here is her admitting to being "moots" with someone who had CSAM and doing more heinous acts

The next screenshots contain the following: Showing desire to rape real people, claiming to have had sex with kids, saying to have almost raped her friend when she was high because she was "horny", saying she would rape a loli if it was real

; 12/17/24, 3:23 PM

Mutual Friends — 7

The image shows a user profile header on a dark background. At the top right, there are two circular icons: a person with a plus sign and three dots. Below these is a circular profile picture of a character with black hair and large eyes. Underneath the profile picture is a small grey circle. Below the profile picture is a grey icon of a speech bubble with a plus sign. The username 'vriskacestt' and the tag 'per/vert' are displayed. To the right of the tag are three achievement icons: a green diamond, a blue laurel wreath, and a purple diamond with a white cross. Below the username and tag is a rounded rectangular box containing the text 'Member Since' and 'Oct 7, 2021'. At the bottom is another rounded rectangular box containing the text 'Mutual Friends — 7' and a right-pointing chevron icon.

TW: Porn

This is the image I received as proof of me screensharing CSAM content

Despite April claiming that I had CSAM content on my iPad, this is me with my camera on showing porn on my Macbook, which is synced with my iPad and all my other Apple devices. So if I were to have such content when the police had gone completely through my iPad, they would've seen this as well, and I would have been charged and sent to Juvie.

They went through everything, they can see deleted messages and media.

In the screenshot that is most likely DDLG or some other fetish porn she and I watched together with consenting adults poorly cropped and censored to make it look as if I was sharing CSAM content, which I was not.

It is very easy to make something look like CSAM content
For example:

These are two consenting adults

https://www.pornhub.com/view_video.php?viewkey=66fc0caab5f40#1

here's the original video

As of late, I've seen that April has posted private information regarding my family members, which is ridiculous and does nothing but increase the risk of putting me in danger. This is essentially doxxing, and can potentially put me and my family at risk all because of various misunderstandings. I am 15 years old, I am not a pedophile or groomer or anything along those lines I have never and will never harm anybody. I have said disgusting unforgivable things in my past that I deeply regret, and I cannot apologize enough to all the people who have felt victimized by what I've said back then, especially to April. I can't change who I was but I can change who I will be going forward and I hope you can understand that.

By no means am I trying to make myself out to be the better person in this situation. I am simply defending myself. I have said very disgusting and inappropriate things in my past that I cannot change and I am sincerely sorry for all that I've said and the feelings of the people I've hurt. It was never my intention, I'm a young dumb teenager and still growing and learning and this situation definitely was a huge learning moment for me. I am not asking for forgiveness or pity, all I am asking for is that you know the truth about what has happened and take it into consideration before calling me a pedophile/predator etc.

As time goes on, and as any more "proof" releases I will update this doc, if you have any questions, if I forgot to mention something, or have proof of me ACTUALLY having CSAM content do not hesitate to contact me through discord @cherubivory
Do not add me if you are going to be immature on purpose and not listen, only add me if you want to seriously talk about this.

Thank you for reading or at least skimming through :-)
