Author's Note

Hey, it's Teeb! Thank you for reading Gash. It's a significant departure from my typical work, since it's... uh... entirely starring humans, haha. How does everyone else draw them so often!? It's so hard!!!

As usual, I had a really fun time working on this. From start to finish, including brainstorming, I spent 12 days on this project. I also stubbornly refused to add green to my color palette in the process. I... don't know why, in hindsight. It would have been nice to have. Especially for Atli! LOL

bro I didn't know you had a blue shirt

I don't

I didn't expect to fall in love with Vinland Saga this hard, but sometimes life comes at you fast. I hope wherever the future leads me, it's somewhere just as fun and interesting.

The next page features some doodles by my friend @beetle_smasher. It was her interpretation of this story's premise, which... was almost entirely accurate, in the end. I'm so grateful to have friends like her to scream about bullshit with, and everyone else who helped me make Gash happen. ^__^

Until next time, you can find me on Twitter and Baraag at @teeb Sly & @teebnsfw. And my comic projects are always hosted at teeb Sly.itch.io, of course! I'd really appreciate it if you didn't re-upload any of them, including this one.

Thanks, I love you! Bye!
