No, that's your interpretation based on issues I suggest you seek immediate help for.

I'm going to say this one last time. This is not healthy. I say this from a good place. Show this email chain to any therapist. This isn't healthy man. The "this is going to be a major issue for FUTO. and for you." Just stop.

I'm blocking your email at this point. Nothing good will come of these conversations. I would kindly ask that you go about your business and leave me out of it entirely. And please, seek help.

You're openly expressing support for a libel, harassment and bullying campaign targeting me. You're publicly spreading misinformation about GrapheneOS based on inaccurate talking points from CalyxOS.

You're going to start giving increasing amounts of funding to a group attacking us while using your platform to amplify them and spread their talking points.

Should I just return the $40k? I'm completely not okay with any of this. The entire thing has been awful. Seems you decided to get brainwashed by the people involved in the attacks on us. Literally started with trolls raiding our rooms seeing your messages there and getting through to you.

I don't know what you expect from me at this point. I can't allow any of our project members to do an interview with someone that's endorsing the blatantly fabricated propaganda that has been spread about us. It could have happened but for some reason you've turned it all into this now.
