Intro

A/N: hi there my name is Faith_the_fangirl but you can call me Faith I made this because I thought oh what the hell lets give it a try so yeah my head is not screwed on right. Let's introduce every charter that is in the beginning and I'll add more charters in at some other point.

Elsa: a not so typical girl in a not so typical world. At age 8 she had to start watching and taking care of her sister Anna, after her parents died at sea on a cruise. Ever since then she has blocked people out except her friends Olaf, Punzie, Jack, and Tooth they have been friends longer then they can remember. But what happens when a out break of zombies happen will she only close more people out or let them in.

Jack: your typical hot guy in school and play boy. Always having fan girls chase him except his best friend Elsa which is a reason he likes her she acts so... different then the other girls. He was left behind by his mother and his father passed away when he was 5 and his sister Emma was 3 months old and like always his mother blamed them for their fathers death even though he died on his way to work by a manic. He is some times shy but how shy will he be in the zombie out break.

Punzie (everyone knows her so I won't spell her name): your popular girl and gossip freak, it's like air to her. But unlike most popular girls she is friends with everyone and tries to nice to people. She was moved into foster care when she was only a day old because her mother died in child brith and her dad committed suicide by hanging himself. After that she was adopted by her mom's co-worker, Amanda Gothel, she believed for along time that she truly was her mother but didn't know why she abused her then she found out. how will this gossip freak survive with no gossip. Oh and Elsa's cousin.

Olaf: the typical small fry in school always getting pushed around and treated like dirt. he has an older brother Kristof and his little brother Sevn who is the little shy kid who never really says anything. Olaf LOVES warm hugs he never forgets to say it when he meets people. Of corse this is a reason for his many bullies other then his small fryness. How will he use his new advantage in the zombie outbreak.

Tooth: like Punzie but not as nice she hates when people steel from her or be mean or when people make fun of other peoples teeth. That's how she got her nick name "tooth". She is a pretty fast runner so this should be an advantage in this new world.

Chapter 1 Day 1: It Begins

~Elsa's POV~

"Elsa!!!! Run, it's coming!!!" Punzie yelled running down the hall as a horrifying sight came after her. "Not funny" Jack said seeing my amused face. I start laughing he had a mustache drawn under his nose and 'dork' written on his forehead and glitter all over him. He shout me a death glare, which only made me laugh harder. "can't-can't-can't bre-breathe" I said in between laughs. Jack gave me the finger, I returned it back. He rolled his eyes at me and contuied chasing Punzie, my poor cousin. "What's going on here" my sister, Anna, said hearing the screaming and laughter. "Punzie made Jack a monster" she knew what I meant by that, Punzie was always messing with Jack from a mustache under his nose to the water in the bowl trick. Punzie ran in again seeing Anna, then running up to her and hugging her. "Help Anna the monster's chasing me" Anna laughed at our amusing cousin. Jack came again except his shirt was off. Why the hell was his shirt off?! Then I noticed the blue shirt in Punzie's hand. "Punzie" I said. Seeing Jack with his shirt off made me blush, I have had a crush on him forever so in this situation I was blushing, no one knows I like him. He then to turned bright red. "Punzie give it back" Jack said. She groaned "do I have to" she moaned. "Yes" he hissed. "Fine" she said giving him back his shirt.

~2 hours later~

We were sitting in front if the TV watching Phantom Of The Opera (A/N I love that movie) on some weird channel. Jack fell asleep Anna was texting and me, Punzie, and Tooth were actually watching the movie until the movie turned off and on came a news a announcement came on. Jack suddenly woke up. "Hello this is channel 4 news here to tell you an emergency situation. The shot for the new illness, jakl fever, has spread a another illness where the victim has a sudden need for human flesh, and they start rotting please stay in doors and keep away from these victims the only way to kill these things is to damage the brain. Stay in doors and god bless you all" was this really happening? Then I heard a scratch at the door. We all shot our heads in that direction.

A/N

Hi there hope you liked the first chapter I think it went pretty well so leave in the comments about your ideas and what was your fav part see ya later my little zombies (that's what I'll call you guys)

Chapter 2 Day 2: Where Do We Go Now?

~Elsa's POV~

"run find cover!!" I told my friends and sister. "no I'm staying and fighting with you" Anna said.

"Do it Anna"

"NO!!! I am NOT leaving you to be eaten alive"

"Anna I'll be ok just go Jack, Tooth, and Punzie will take care of you until I can find you again" the door broke just a little more but it was about to bust. "GO NOW!!!!" I said pushing my sister. "ELSA" she screamed for me as Jack pulled her out the back way. "thank you" I mouthed to Jack. I grabbed our emergemncy gun. I shot the frist one that came out of the door. "I love you Jack" I whispered as they came closer and closer to me, I was a goner I would never make it out of this mess. Bam! Huh? Was that a gun. Bam! Bam! I turned my head it was a gril with black hair and a boy with black hair to with a monkey on his shoulder. "COME ON" he shoutedd to me. I didn't know who these people were and I didn't care. I ran over to them as we backed away towards the back door. When we got out a man with a geinie bottle tattoed on his arm and he had blue tattoed over most of his body. "Come on come on" he said frantically. We got in to the car. "are you ok are you bit or anything" the girl said, I looked at her side, she had a huge cat with tiger strips. "yeah I-I think so" I suttered out. "what's your name" the boy asked looking at me. "Elsa you?" I asked. "I'm Aladin and this is Abu my monkey" he said pettig Abu's head. "I'm Jasmine and this is Rajah" she said pointing at the large cat. "and I'm Genie" the blue guy said from the driver's set. "well you have to help me find my sister and friends they have to be some where near they ran off while I fought off those things"

"chompers that's we call them their aways chomping at things" Aladin said. "well ok can we find them please" I said almost begging. "sure kid we'll find them" Genie said.

~Anna's POV~

"LET GO OF ME JACK!!" I said struggling from Jack he was carrying me by slinging me over his back. "Anna we'll find her we need to find some where safe first" he said in a calm voice. A calm voice?! "why are you so calm I thought you loved her now let GO OF ME JACK I NEED TO HELP HER" I said struggling more. After for what felt like hours I finally drifted to sleep with one last thing on my mind Elsa are you ok?

A/N: ok chapter 2 just after like 40 minutes of the first one bam what, if anyone has seen Liv And Maddie they will get. tell me some new fresh ideas or what you liked about this and tell me what other chapters I can put in here. well see ya later my little zombies.

Chapter 3 Day 3: I Will Find You and A/N oh no

~Anna's POV~

I wake to find that I am in an abandoned store of some sort. "Hey Anna you ok" I see Jack towering over me as I open my eyes. "Well Elsa is gone and we have no idea where the hell she is so not so great" I said. . "Where are we" I ask, if I want to find Elsa I should know where we are if things turn south. "Sports Mans Warehouse which is awesome cause theres knives and stuff here and Punzie is awesome with knives" he said pointing to Punzie who had a knife in her hand. "Hey cuz you ok you look really sad" that is when I lost it.

"WILL EVERYONE STOP ASKING HOW I FEEL, CAUSE EVERYONE ALREADY KNOWS I FEEL LIKE HELL! ELSA IS MISSING, AND POSSIBLY DEAD, BECAUSE OF YOU!! ALL OF YOU! SHE IS THE ONLY THING I WOULD DIE FOR!!" I yelled running out of the room. I don't care how much they beg me not to go, I am going to find my sister, no one can stop me.

~Elsa's POV~

Anna please be ok. I thought as we passed my old neighbor hood, all these things, or chompers as, Aladin calls them, were once people I knew but not anymore. "Hey kid she ain't in this place maybe she's out some where else" Genie said as Jasmine nodded in agreement. "Fine just hurry I need to find her I promised her" my voice went to a whisper. "I promised her" I said looking at my hands. They were trembling. What if they didn't make it and were roming around like the others? What if I was to late? I promised her when we found out about our parenets death that I would protect her from anything else. "I will find you Anna if it's the last thing I do" I said to myself.

~Jack's POV (oh didn't see it did ya)~

Anna has been i the bathroom for over an hour. is she still mad at us?
"Anna? Sweetie open up, come on An?" Punzie said. I have had enough, I loved Elsa to but I told her that I would protect Anna and I promised myself I would do anything for her, sacrifice anything for her. I kicked the door down and found the top gate ripped open.

A/N: ok chapter 3 is out ok if you liked it please leave a vote behind and comment on what you like or what I can do with this story and if you really liked it please add to your library or reading list and ahhhhhh 135 reads
OMG I can't even explain how amazing that isI mean wow awesome and please give me some ideas of what people you would like "ME" no not you Bob sorry that was Bob he's the sound guy any way pleas tell me what people you would like in this little story of mine and I won't post for awhile because I can only do it on my IPod and I lost it

Chapter 4: Where Is She!

~Elsa's POV~

I need to calm down, I was quivering since we had not found Anna or the rest of the gang in a least a week. I started to tear up again and Jasmine told me we would find her, but I was unsure. We had been looking for a week now and still no sign. What if they didn't make it? I started to cry again. "Shh I see something in the distants a....HARDWEAR STORE jackpot." Aladin said as he and Genie sat up front driving. "Well let's go in and find what we need we don't want roamers (I liked it better then walkers in the walking dead comic) to come." I nodded my head as we darted inside. It looked pretty secure in here maybe they were here. When I came in I imeditaly called out to Anna.

"Anna a-are you here" I asked the vivid darkness. The lights came on right after to reveal Jack, Punzie, Tooth, and Olaf. I ran up to Jack and hugged him as tight as I could. "Where's Anna?" I asked curious to where my sister was. Jack rubbed his neck, looking down at the ground.

"She left and went looking for you" he said.

"W-what? Jack stop kidding around seriously where is she?" I asked thinking Jack was up to his old tricks. He didn't respond making me more and more nervous. "J-Jack? Where is Anna?!" I yelled.

"Elsa calm down she left like five minutes maybe even seconds ago. She couldn't have gone far." Jack said putting his hands on my shoulders. I through his hands off me.

"Don't touch me! How could you?! she's only 15!" I screamed at him. I ran out of the store crying. "Anna." I whispered crying. I felt my legs weaken as I began to collapse but the cold surface never came. I looked up to find Jack holding me. I quickly threw myself up to a standing position. "I said don't touch me." I said walking off. I needed to find her before roamers got her.

A/N: I FINALLY UPDATED YAY!!! Sorry it took forever but this one I haven't had much inspiration lately so it was harder to make something up

Chapter 5: I NEED TO FIND MY SISTER!

FIND ELSA FIND ANNA I NEED TO FIND MY SISTER!

~Anna's POV~It's been a few hours since I left Jack and the rest, I still couldn't find Anna. It's been too long! Where is she?!?! I needed my sister, she was braver than me, stronger. She could survive out here, I couldn't without her. "Elsa!" I called out to the nothing I stood in.

"Hello?" I hear a male voice call out. I start walking towards the source of the sound. I walked up to bump into a man. He stood tall, probably around 6'2, and had dirty blonde hair. His features were not too bad. By his side was a light brown dog. "Oh sorry." He said catching me before I hit the ground.

"It's ok. I'm Anna by the way." I said extending my hand.

"I'm Kristoff and this is Sven." The blonde said pointing to his dog afterwards. I bent down and pet his dog. His dog barked, not in a mean way, and started rubbing against me. He let out a ruff and returned to his owner. "So what are you doing all by yourself?" Tears threatened to spill out but I held them back with all my might and strength.

"My sister, she saved me and my friends but at her own life. I don't think she's dead because one she's badass with weapons and two she said she would find me." Remembering the tragic event that tore me from my sister brought more tears to my eyes. A few slid down my face but quickly I wiped them away. For Elsa I would stay strong.

"Well I hope she's ok. I might have seen her what does she look like?"

"She has white hair, blue eyes, and is 5'6. She might be wearing what she was wearing when I last saw her, a blue tank top, and jeans." He nodded his head violently.

"Yeah, yeah. I just saw a girl walk by exactly like that." He pointed to the back of him. "She headed off that way." My eyes widened and I took his hand and ran along the way he pointed.

~Elsa's POV~Don't let them inDon't let them seeBe the good girl you always have to be..I hummed the song, a song my mother sung to me when I had nightmares. I walked longer, harder. My breathing becoming harder, almost a pant for air. My stomach growled loudly but I didn't bring anything with me. How stupid could I be? I thought. "ELSA!!!!!" I heard someone scream my name. A female voice I hadn't heard in what seemed like forever. I looked up as tears blurred my vision as I saw the figure run towards me.

"Anna?!"

A/N: I updated FINALLY!!!! I'm so sorry I haven't updated daily like I originally planned just a lot going on. Anyway how'd you like this chapter? How do you think things will be from now on?
