

over 2 weeks ago niwwunekoberri's account was maliciously hacked, and she has been attempting to reach X support ever since. The group responsible has allegedly dealt CP (which has been reported to the FBI), and has blackmailed niwwu as well, making her life a living hell. this document contains several pieces of evidence that niwwu's account was compromised. our only goal is to actually reach X support and hopefully regain access to her account.

I am a vtuber content creator on twitch (twitch.tv/niwwu) and recently my verified X account of almost 20K followers was hacked on February 7th around 4:00-5:00PM CST because I was tricked into downloading malware that forwarded my login information to a hacker who hacked my friends account and was pretending to be my friend. My hacked account used to have the username @niwwunekoberri - I have proof that the hacker sold my account to someone else and then the buyer changed my username to @dubaizito and then changed it again to @lalayouarepoor. They have been trying to prey on my followers to get them to download the same malware and are also trying to scam people saying they will sell my account to them but then attempting to do a gift card scam. I have proof that I was hacked and also proof that my hacker sold my account to someone else in a telegram group. I also have proof that this telegram group is being used to deal drugs and CSEM and is using account stealing and selling to disguise what they are really doing. Both my hacker, yxsinx, and the person he sold my account to, dubai, are in this group.

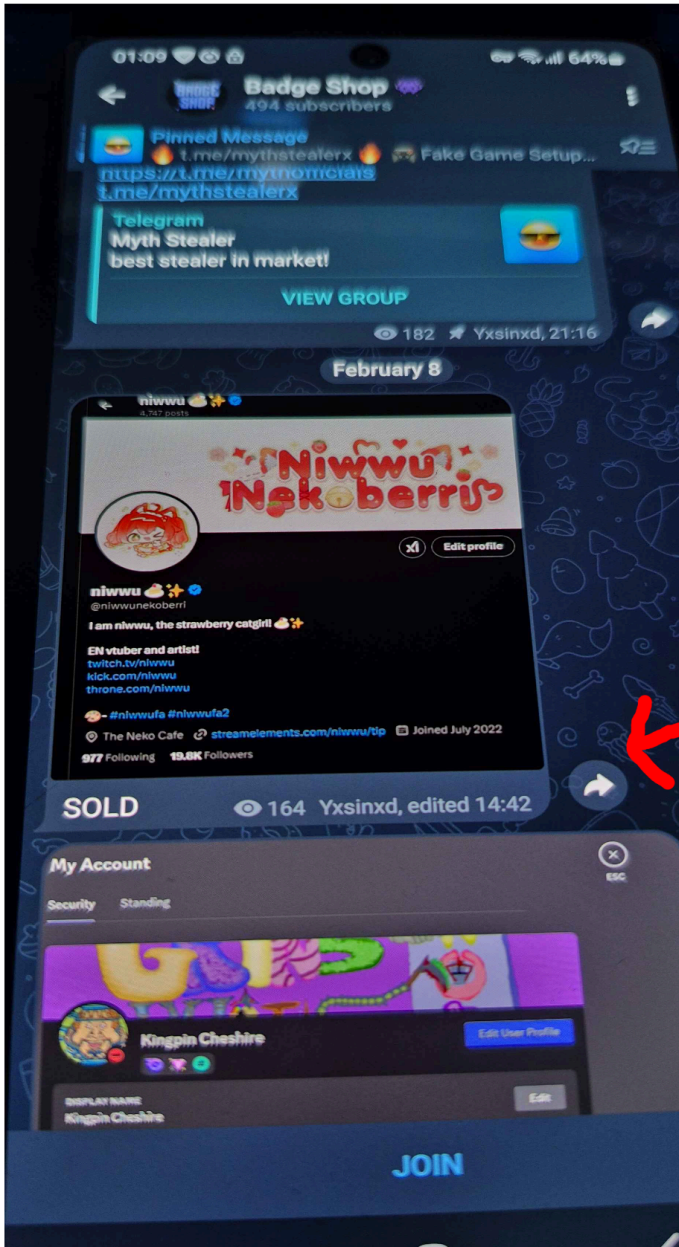

I was using an alt account to preserve my original username @niwwunekoberri and to inform my following about this situation and document my case against my hacker. My alt account was suspended today for impersonation when I AM THE ONE BEING IMPERSONATED! I posted an overwhelming amount of proof that my main account was hacked on my alt before it got suspended. The hacker has even messaged my alt account from my hacked main account and has admitted himself that the account belongs to me and attempted to threaten me to negotiate with him for my account back. I have video proof of this too.

I have proof that I still retain the full ownership and access to the throne wishlist account that posted automated wishlist reminder posts and posts that I received a wishlist gift to my main account before it was hacked. I have proof of this too.

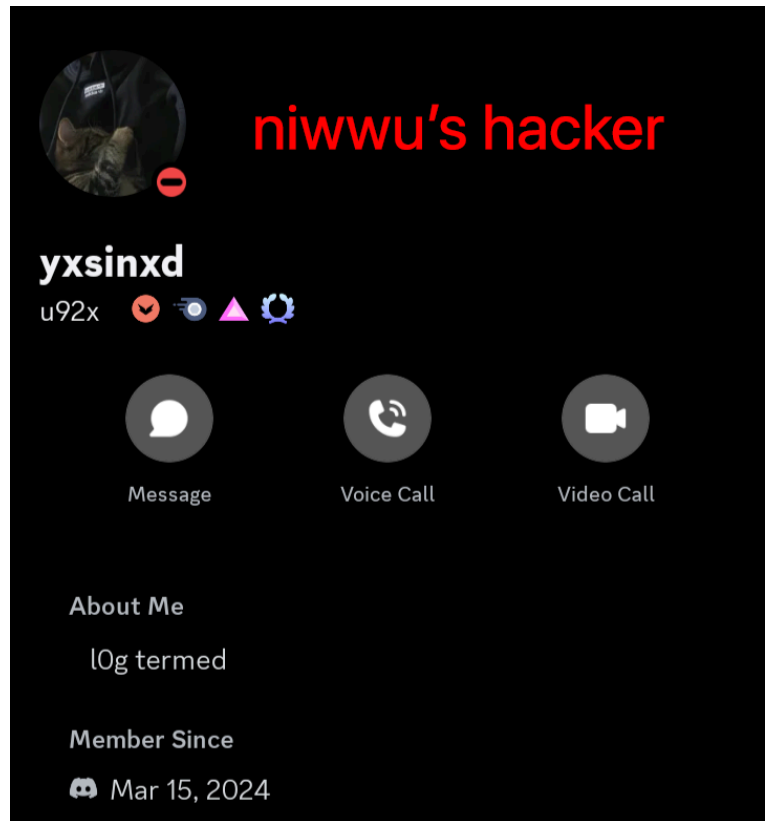

I also still have full access to my business email that was used to purchase X Premium through stripe on my main account before it was hacked. This business email was also in the bio of the account for months before I was hacked, I posted my follower milestone thank you posts on my account before it was hacked that show this. I have proof of my receipt for X premium for my main account.

I posted to X almost every time I went live on twitch and kick streaming platforms and the date of my live notification posts I made on the account before I was hacked lines up with all of my kick vods which are publicly viewable. I still have full access to my twitch and kick accounts and I have proof of all of this too.

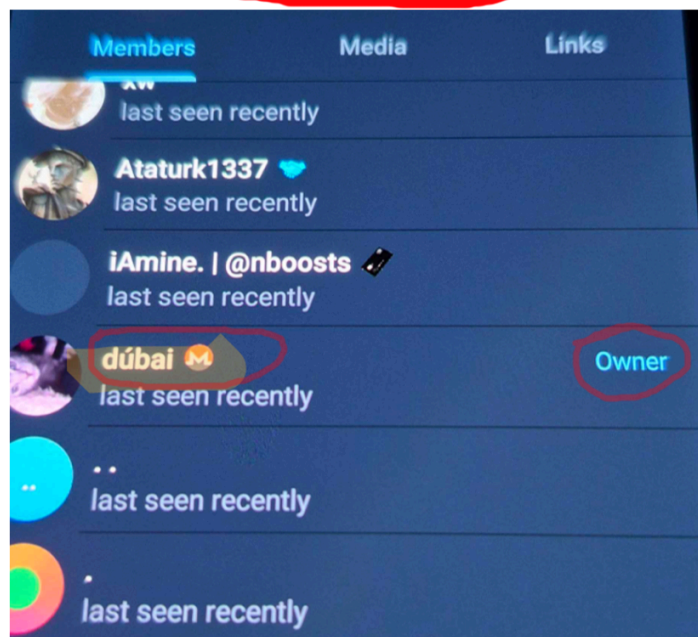

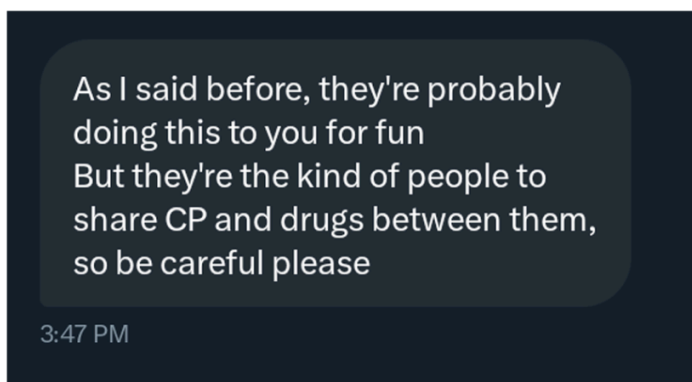

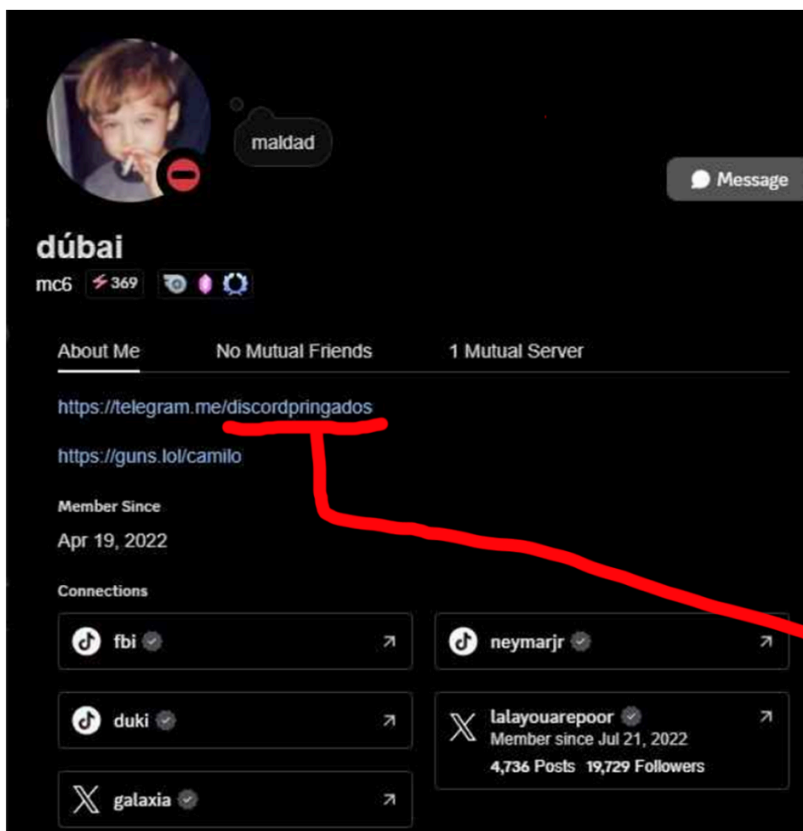

I have spent the past 12 days attempting to reach a real human at X support about my situation. I need help. I have undeniable proof that the account belongs to me.

confirmation niwwu's account was sold niwwu's account was sold to user "dubai" the owner of the telegram group "discordpringados" the hacker messaged niwwu's alt account before it was suspended and admitted niwwu was the rightful owner of the account, The hacker then posts they are the "new owner" of the account which implies that there was a previous owner.

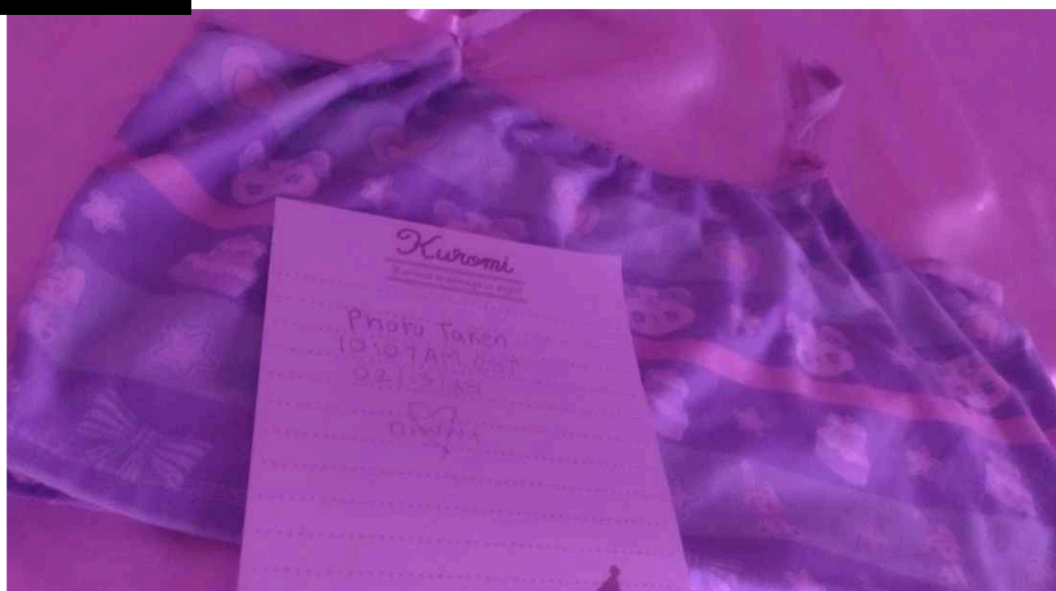

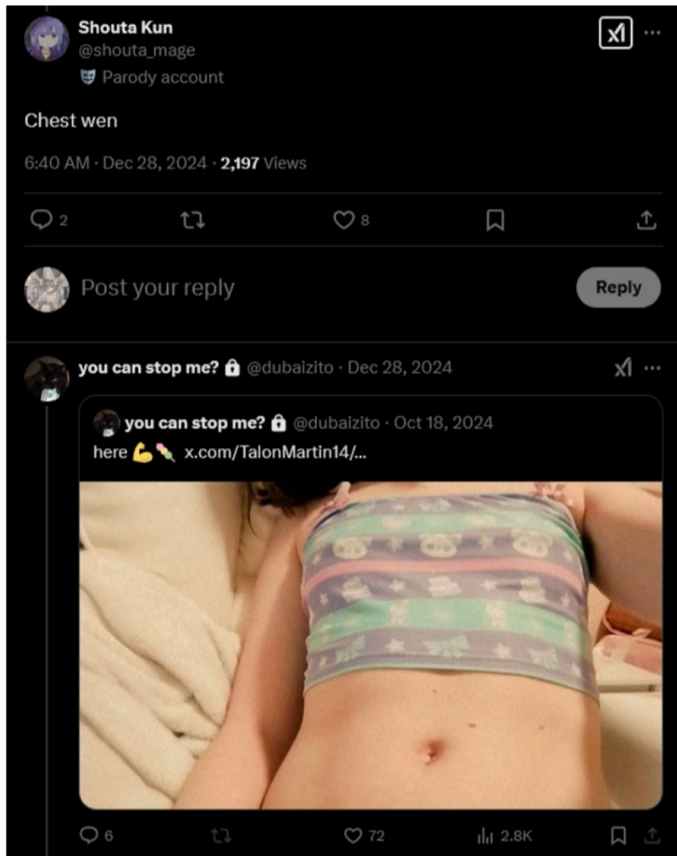

posts from niwwu that were still on her account after being hacked containing her original character

The image shows a screenshot of a Twitter profile page for the user 'you can stop me?' (@lalayouarepoor). The profile is located in the United States and was joined in July 2022. It has 884 following and 19.7K followers. A pinned post from November 24, 2024, introduces the user as 'Niwwu Nekoberri', a magical strawberry cat girl vtuber and Live2D artist/rigger. The post includes a full-body illustration of a character with red hair, cat ears, and a yellow and white outfit. Below the pinned post is a tweet from 2 days ago that says, 'One of the best ways to support me is to purchase a gift from my privacy friendly throne wishlist! Please consider helping out if you can, I would appreciate it sooo much!!' with a link to 'throne.com/niwwu/wishlist'. This tweet features a close-up illustration of the character's face with large, colorful eyes. A reply from user '별몽지 @star_moongji' is visible below the tweet, saying '그리고 나서 든 생각..'. The interface shows engagement metrics like replies, retweets, and likes for both the pinned post and the tweet.

niwwu comments on the telegram group allegedly dealing CP which has been reported to the FBI

Proof regarding the claims about the telegram group dealing CP- one of the members makes a "joke" about one of the other members in the group buying CP and right after this joke another member expressed that they are worried that will "be detected" or get them caught. I also have seen proof of multiple members of this group actually interacting with minors and exchanging nude photos with them but I will not include that here since it is illegal to possess or share CP for any reason. I have already reported this to the FBI. Again, both my initial hacker "yxsinxd" and the person he sold my X account to "Dubai" are members of this group, and Dubai is also an owner of the group

Also here is proof of yxsindx on niwwu's friends hacked account after he hacked her, showing niwwu photos of herself that were only on her phone and also sending her proof he had logins to all of her accounts and using it as blackmail to solicit nude photos from her.

niwwu comments on the lack of X support dubai changes the display name and profile picture of niwwu's account again dubai has been hiding all replies of anyone addressing how he has stolen niwwu's account while the hackers gained access to several of niwwu's accounts, he regained access to them except for X, where he remains a paid premium user.

niwwu streams for a job and X was one of the sites where she would broadcast. it's insane that a paid and verified user and X can get their account stolen and receive 0 support.
