- (2) A duty, in relation to a service, to take or use proportionate measures relating to the design or operation of the service to effectively—
- (a) mitigate and manage the risks of harm to children in different age groups, as identified in the most recent children's risk assessment of the service (see section 11(6)(g)), and

  - (b) that policy applies in relation to all users of the service.
- (6) If a provider is required by subsection (4) to use age verification or age estimation for the purpose of compliance with the duty set out in subsection (3)(a), the age verification or age estimation must be of such a kind, and used in such a way, that it is highly effective at correctly determining whether or not a particular user is a child.

13 Safety duties protecting children: interpretation

- (1) In determining what is proportionate for the purposes of section 12, the following factors, in particular, are relevant—
- (a) all the findings of the most recent children’s risk assessment (including as to levels of risk and as to nature, and severity, of potential harm to children), and
  - (b) the size and capacity of the provider of a service.
- (2) So far as a duty set out in section 12 relates to non-designated content that is harmful to children, the duty is to be taken to extend only to addressing risks of harm from the kinds of such content that have been identified in the most recent children’s risk assessment (if any have been identified).
- (3) References in section 12(3)(b) and (9)(b) and (c) to children in age groups judged to be at risk of harm from content that is harmful to children are references to children in age groups judged to be at risk of such harm as assessed by the provider of a service in the most recent children’s risk assessment of the service.
- (4) The duties set out in section 12(3) and (9) are to be taken to extend only to content that is harmful to children where the risk of harm is presented by the nature of the content (rather than the fact of its dissemination).
- (5) The duties set out in section 12 extend only to such parts of a service as it is possible for children to access.
- (6) For the purposes of subsection (5), a provider is only entitled to conclude that it is not possible for children to access a service, or a part of it, if age verification or age estimation is used on the service with the result that children are not normally able to access the service or that part of it.
- (7) In section 12 and this section “children’s risk assessment” has the meaning given by section 11.

  - (b) the user wishes to change the default setting for the feature.

- (7) A duty to include clear and accessible provisions in the terms of service specifying which control features are offered and how users may take advantage of them.
- (8) A duty to summarise in the terms of service the findings of the most recent assessment of a service under section 14 (assessments related to the duty set out in subsection (2)).
- (9) A duty to include in a service features which adult users may use or apply if they wish to filter out non-verified users.

  - (b) taking action against a user who is a recognised news publisher.
- (3) The steps referred to in subsection (2) are—
  - (a) to give the recognised news publisher in question a notification which—
    - (i) specifies the action that the provider is considering taking,
    - (ii) gives reasons for that proposed action by reference to each relevant provision of the terms of service,
    - (iii) where the proposed action relates to news publisher content that is also journalistic content, explains how the provider took the importance of the free expression of journalistic content into account when deciding on the proposed action, and
    - (iv) specifies a reasonable period within which the recognised news publisher may make representations,

- (10) Section 192 (providers’ judgements about the status of content) applies in relation to judgements by providers about whether news publisher content amounts to a relevant offence as it applies in relation to judgements about whether content is illegal content.
- (11) Any provision of the terms of service has effect subject to this section.

- (4) The duties set out in subsections (2) and (3) apply across all areas of a service, including the way the search engine is designed, operated and used as well as search content of the service, and (among other things) require the provider of a service to take or use measures in the following areas, if it is proportionate to do so—

30 Safety duties protecting children: interpretation

- (1) In determining what is proportionate for the purposes of section 29, the following factors, in particular, are relevant—
- (a) all the findings of the most recent children’s risk assessment (including as to levels of risk and as to nature, and severity, of potential harm to children), and
  - (b) the size and capacity of the provider of a service.
- (2) So far as a duty set out in section 29 relates to non-designated content that is harmful to children, the duty is to be taken to extend only to addressing risks of harm from the kinds of such content that have been identified in the most recent children’s risk assessment (if any have been identified).
- (3) The reference in section 29(3)(b) to children in age groups judged to be at risk of harm from content that is harmful to children is a reference to children in age groups judged to be at risk of such harm as assessed by the provider of a service in the most recent children’s risk assessment of the service.
- (4) The duties set out in section 29(3) are to be taken to extend only to content that is harmful to children where the risk of harm is presented by the nature of the content (rather than the fact of its dissemination).
- (5) The duties set out in section 29 extend only to such parts of a service as it is possible for children to access.
- (6) For the purposes of subsection (5), a provider is only entitled to conclude that it is not possible for children to access a service, or a part of it, if age verification or age estimation is used on the service with the result that children are not normally able to access the service or that part of it.
- (7) In section 29 and this section “children’s risk assessment” has the meaning given by section 28.
- (8) See also, in relation to duties set out in section 29, section 33 (duties about freedom of expression and privacy).

  - (a) to determine whether it is possible for children to access the service or a part of the service, and
  - (b) if it is possible for children to access the service or a part of the service, to determine whether the child user condition is met in relation to the service or a part of the service.
- (2) A provider is only entitled to conclude that it is not possible for children to access a service, or a part of it, if age verification or age estimation is used on the service with the result that children are not normally able to access the service or that part of it.
- (3) The “child user condition” is met in relation to a service, or a part of a service, if—
  - (a) there is a significant number of children who are users of the service or of that part of it, or
  - (b) the service, or that part of it, is of a kind likely to attract a significant number of users who are children.

- (5) In this Chapter—
  - (a) references to children are to children in the United Kingdom;

37 Meaning of “likely to be accessed by children”

- (1) For the purposes of this Part, a Part 3 service is to be treated as “likely to be accessed by children” in the following three cases (with the result that the duties set out in sections 11 and 12, or (as the case may be) sections 28 and 29, apply in relation to the service).
- (2) The first case is where a children's access assessment carried out by the provider of the service concludes that—

  - (b) the child user condition is met in relation to—
    - (i) the service, or

- (4) The second case is where the provider of the service fails to carry out the first children’s access assessment as required by section 36(1).
- (5) In that case—

  - (b) the service is to continue to be treated as likely to be accessed by children by reason of subsection (4) until such time as the provider completes the first children’s access assessment of the service.
- (6) The third case is where, following an investigation into a failure to comply with a duty set out in section 36, OFCOM determine that a service should be treated as likely to be accessed by children: see section 135(4) and (5).
- (7) In that case, the service is to be treated as likely to be accessed by children from the date of, or specified in, the confirmation decision given to the provider of the service (as the case may be: see section 135(5)).

CHAPTER 6

ENFORCEMENT POWERS

Provisional notices and confirmation decisions

130 Provisional notice of contravention

- (1) OFCOM may give a notice under this section (a “provisional notice of contravention”) relating to a regulated service to the provider of the service if they consider that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the provider has failed, or is failing, to comply with any enforceable requirement (see section 131) that applies in relation to the service.
- (2) OFCOM may also give a provisional notice of contravention to a person on either of the grounds in subsection (3).
- (3) The grounds are that—
  - (a) the person has been given an information notice and OFCOM consider that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the person has failed, or is failing, to comply with either of the duties set out in section 102(8) (duties in relation to information notices), or
  - (b) the person is required by a skilled person appointed under section 104 to give assistance to the skilled person, and OFCOM consider that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the person has failed, or is failing, to comply with the duty set out in subsection (7) of that section to give such assistance.
- (4) A provisional notice of contravention given to a person must—
  - (a) specify the duty or requirement with which (in OFCOM’s opinion) the person has failed, or is failing, to comply, and
  - (b) give OFCOM’s reasons for their opinion that the person has failed, or is failing, to comply with it.
- (5) A provisional notice of contravention may also contain details as mentioned in subsection (6) or (7), or both.
- (6) A provisional notice of contravention may specify steps that OFCOM consider the person needs to take in order to—
  - (a) comply with the duty or requirement, or
  - (b) remedy the failure to comply with it.
- (7) A provisional notice of contravention may state that OFCOM propose to impose a penalty on the person, and in such a case the notice must—
  - (a) state the reasons why OFCOM propose to impose a penalty,
  - (b) state whether OFCOM propose to impose a penalty of a single amount, a penalty calculated by reference to a daily rate, or both penalties (see section 137(1)),
  - (c) indicate the amount of a penalty that OFCOM propose to impose, including (in relation to a penalty calculated by reference to a daily rate) the daily rate and how the penalty would be calculated,

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Online Safety Act 2023 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 30 September 2025. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (d) in relation to a penalty calculated by reference to a daily rate, specify or describe the period for which OFCOM propose that the penalty should be payable, and
  - (e) state the reasons for proposing a penalty of that amount, including any aggravating or mitigating factors that OFCOM propose to take into account.
- (8) A provisional notice of contravention given to a person must—
- (a) state that the person may make representations to OFCOM (with any supporting evidence) about the matters contained in the notice, and
  - (b) specify the period within which such representations may be made.
- (9) A provisional notice of contravention may be given in respect of a failure to comply with more than one enforceable requirement.
- (10) Where a provisional notice of contravention is given in respect of a continuing failure, the notice may be given in respect of any period during which the failure has continued, and must specify that period.
- (11) Where a provisional notice of contravention is given to a person in respect of a failure to comply with a duty or requirement (“the first notice”), a further provisional notice of contravention in respect of a failure to comply with that same duty or requirement may be given to the person only—
- (a) in respect of a separate instance of the failure after the first notice was given,
  - (b) where a period was specified in the first notice in accordance with subsection (10), in respect of the continuation of the failure after the end of that period, or
  - (c) if the first notice has been withdrawn (without a confirmation decision being given to the person in respect of the failure).

  - (g) (if relevant) specify the period for which a system or process must be used,
  - (h) contain details of the rights of appeal under section 168, and

134 Confirmation decisions: risk assessments

- (1) This section applies if—
- (a) OFCOM are satisfied that a provider of a Part 3 service has failed to comply with a risk assessment duty,

- (2) A confirmation decision given to the provider of the service—
- (a) if the identified risk relates to matters required to be covered by an illegal content risk assessment, may include a determination that the duty set out in section 10(2)(b) or (c) or 27(2) (as the case may be) applies as if an illegal content risk assessment carried out by the provider had identified that risk;
  - (b) if the identified risk relates to matters required to be covered by a children’s risk assessment, may include a determination that the duty set out in section 12(2)(a) or 29(2)(a) (as the case may be) applies as if a children’s risk assessment carried out by the provider had identified that risk.

- (4) The grounds mentioned in subsection (1)(b) are that—

145 Interim service restriction orders

- (1) OFCOM may apply to the court for an interim order under this section (an “interim service restriction order”) in relation to a regulated service where they consider that—
  - (a) the grounds in subsection (3) apply in relation to the service, or
  - (b) in the case of a Part 3 service, the grounds in subsection (4) apply in relation to the service.
- (2) An interim service restriction order is an interim order imposing requirements on one or more persons who provide an ancillary service (whether from within or outside the United Kingdom) in relation to a regulated service (see subsection (9)).
- (3) The grounds mentioned in subsection (1)(a) are that—
  - (a) it is likely that the provider of the regulated service is failing to comply with an enforceable requirement that applies in relation to the regulated service, and
  - (b) the level of risk of harm to individuals in the United Kingdom relating to the likely failure, and the nature and severity of that harm, are such that it would not be appropriate to wait to establish the failure before applying for the order.
- (4) The grounds mentioned in subsection (1)(b) are that—
  - (a) it is likely that the provider of the Part 3 service is failing to comply with a notice under section 121(1) that relates to the service (notices to deal with terrorism content and CSEA content), and
  - (b) the level of risk of harm to individuals in the United Kingdom relating to the likely failure, and the nature and severity of that harm, are such that it would not be appropriate to wait to establish the failure before applying for the order.
- (5) An application by OFCOM for an interim service restriction order must—
  - (a) specify the regulated service in relation to which the application is made (“the relevant service”),
  - (b) specify the provider of that service (“the non-compliant provider”),
  - (c) specify the grounds on which the application is based, and contain evidence about those grounds,
  - (d) specify the persons on whom (in OFCOM’s opinion) the requirements of the order should be imposed,
  - (e) contain evidence as to why OFCOM consider that the persons mentioned in paragraph (d) provide an ancillary service in relation to the relevant service, and specify any such ancillary service provided,
  - (f) specify the requirements which OFCOM consider that the order should impose on such persons, and
  - (g) in the case of an application made without notice having been given to the non-compliant provider, or to the persons mentioned in paragraph (d), state why no notice has been given.
- (6) The court may make an interim service restriction order imposing requirements on a person in relation to the relevant service if the court is satisfied—
  - (a) as to the ground in subsection (3)(a) or the ground in subsection (4)(a) (as the case may be),
  - (b) that the person provides an ancillary service in relation to the relevant service,
  - (c) that there are prima facie grounds to suggest that an application for a service restriction order under section 144 would be successful,

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

*Changes to legislation: Online Safety Act 2023 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 30 September 2025. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. - (d) that the level of risk of harm to individuals in the United Kingdom relating to the likely failure mentioned in subsection (3)(a) or (4)(a) (whichever applies), and the nature and severity of that harm, are such that it is not appropriate to wait for the failure to be established before making the order, and
  - (e) if no notice of the application has been given to the non-compliant provider, or to the persons on whom requirements are being imposed, that it is appropriate to make the order without notice.
- (7) An interim service restriction order ceases to have effect on the earlier of—
- (a) the date specified in the order, or the date on which the period specified in the order expires (as the case may be), and
  - (b) the date on which the court makes a service restriction order under section 144 in relation to the relevant service that imposes requirements on the same persons on whom requirements are imposed by the interim order, or dismisses the application for such an order.
- (8) Subsections (7) to (10) of section 144 apply in relation to an interim service restriction order under this section as they apply in relation to a service restriction order under that section.
- (9) In this section, “ancillary service” and “the court” have the same meaning as in section 144 (see subsections (11), (12) and (13) of that section).

- (1) OFCOM may apply to the court for an order under this section (an “access restriction order”) in relation to a regulated service where they consider that—
- (a) the grounds in section 144(3) or (4) apply in relation to the service, and
  - (b) either—
    - (i) a service restriction order under section 144 or an interim service restriction order under section 145 has been made in relation to the failure, and it was not sufficient to prevent significant harm arising to individuals in the United Kingdom as a result of the failure, or
    - (ii) the likely consequences of the failure are such that if a service restriction order or an interim service restriction order were to be made, it would be unlikely to be sufficient to prevent significant harm arising to individuals in the United Kingdom as a result of the failure, and in this paragraph, “the failure” means the failure mentioned in section 144(3)(a) or (4)(a) (as the case may be).
- (2) An access restriction order is an order imposing requirements on one or more persons who provide an access facility (whether from within or outside the United Kingdom) in relation to a regulated service (see subsection (10)).

  - (c) that it is appropriate to make the order for the purpose of preventing significant harm to individuals in the United Kingdom, and the order is proportionate to the risk of such harm,
  - (d) in the case of an application made on the ground in subsection (3)(c)(iii) or (iv) of section 144 (by virtue of subsection (1)(a)), that it is appropriate to make the order before a provisional notice of contravention or confirmation decision has been given, or before compliance with requirements imposed by a confirmation decision has been ascertained (as the case may be), and
  - (e) if no notice of the application has been given to the non-compliant provider, or to the persons on whom requirements are being imposed, that it is appropriate to make the order without notice.
- (5) When considering whether to make an access restriction order in relation to the relevant service, and when considering what provision it should contain, the court must take into account (among other things) the rights and obligations of all relevant parties, including those of—
- (a) the non-compliant provider,
  - (b) the person or persons on whom the court is considering imposing the requirements, and
  - (c) United Kingdom users of the relevant service.

- (9) Where a person who provides an access facility takes steps or puts in place arrangements required by an access restriction order, OFCOM may, by notice, require that person to (where possible) notify persons in the United Kingdom who attempt to access the relevant service via that facility of the access restriction order (and where a confirmation decision has been given to the non-compliant provider, the notification must refer to that decision).
- (10) For the purposes of this section, a facility is an “access facility” in relation to a regulated service if the person who provides the facility is able to withdraw, adapt or manipulate it in such a way as to impede access (by means of that facility) to the regulated service (or to part of it) by United Kingdom users of that service.
- (11) Examples of access facilities include—
- (a) internet access services by means of which a regulated service is made available, and

- (3) In relation to any enforcement action by OFCOM which relates to a failure by a provider of a regulated service to comply with a relevant duty, the guidance must include provision explaining how OFCOM will take into account the impact (or possible impact) of such a failure on children.
- (4) Before producing the guidance (including revised or replacement guidance), OFCOM must consult—
  - (a) the Secretary of State,
  - (b) the Information Commissioner, and
  - (c) such other persons as OFCOM consider appropriate.
- (5) OFCOM must publish the guidance (and any revised or replacement guidance).

PART 11

SUPPLEMENTARY AND GENERAL

Providers' judgements about the status of content

192 Providers' judgements about the status of content

- (1) This section sets out the approach to be taken where—
  - (a) a system or process operated or used by a provider of a Part 3 service for the purpose of compliance with relevant requirements,
  - (b) a risk assessment required to be carried out by Part 3, or
  - (c) an assessment required to be carried out by section 14, involves a judgement by a provider about whether content is content of a particular kind.
- (2) Such judgements are to be made on the basis of all relevant information that is reasonably available to a provider.

Status: This version of this Act contains provisions that are prospective.

Changes to legislation: Online Safety Act 2023 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 30 September 2025. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details) View outstanding changes

- (3) In construing the reference to information that is reasonably available to a provider, the following factors, in particular, are relevant—

  - (a) illegal content, or illegal content of a particular kind, or

- (6) Reasonable grounds for that inference exist in relation to content and an offence if, following the approach in subsection (2), a provider—
  - (a) has reasonable grounds to infer that all elements necessary for the commission of the offence, including mental elements, are present or satisfied, and
  - (b) does not have reasonable grounds to infer that a defence to the offence may be successfully relied upon.
- (7) In the case of content generated by a bot or other automated tool, the tests mentioned in subsection (6)(a) and (b) are to be applied in relation to the conduct or mental state of a person who may be assumed to control the bot or tool (or, depending what a provider knows in a particular case, the actual person who controls the bot or tool).
- (8) In considering a provider’s compliance with relevant requirements to which this section is relevant, OFCOM may take into account whether providers’ judgements follow the approaches set out in this section (including judgements made by means of automated systems or processes, alone or together with human moderators).
- (9) In this section—
  - “fraudulent advertisement” has the meaning given by section 38 or 39 (depending on the kind of service in question);

Application of Part 1 and paragraph 6

- 19 (1) This paragraph applies in relation to—
- (a) an illegal content risk assessment or a CAA of the regulated service if an assessment of that kind is due to be carried out in relation to the Part 4B part of the service in accordance with paragraph 16 or 17;
  - (b) a section 15(2) assessment of the regulated service if a section 15(2) assessment is due to be carried out in relation to the Part 4B part of the service in accordance with paragraph 18.

References in the rest of this paragraph to an illegal content risk assessment, a CAA or a section 15(2) assessment are to an assessment of that kind to which this paragraph applies.

- (2) For the purposes of this paragraph—
- (a) the regulated service is “type 1” if it would still be a regulated user-to-user service even if the Part 4B part were to be assumed not to be part of the service;
  - (b) the regulated service is “type 2” if it would be a regulated search service if the Part 4B part were to be assumed not to be part of the service;
  - (c) the regulated service is “type 3” if it does not fall within paragraph (a) or (b).
- (3) If the regulated service is type 1, an illegal content risk assessment, a CAA or a section 15(2) assessment is to be treated as being due at the time provided for by Part 1 or paragraph 6 only in relation to the rest of the service.
- (4) In sub-paragraph (3) “the rest of the service” means any user-to-user part of the regulated service other than the Part 4B part.
- (5) If the regulated service is type 2—
- (a) an illegal content risk assessment is not required to be carried out at the time provided for by Part 1, but that is not to be taken to prevent an illegal content risk assessment as defined by section 26 from being due in relation to the search engine of the service at the time provided for by Part 1;
  - (b) a CAA is to be treated as being due at the time provided for by Part 1 only in relation to the search engine of the service;
  - (c) a section 15(2) assessment is not required to be carried out at the time provided for by paragraph 6.
- (6) If the regulated service is type 3, no illegal content risk assessment, CAA or section 15(2) assessment is required to be carried out at the time provided for by Part 1 or paragraph 6.

- (b) paragraph 19(3) (CAA of the rest of a service), or
  - (c) paragraph 19(5)(b) (CAA of search engine of a service).
- (2) The definition of “the relevant day” is to operate by reference to the CAA that was (or was required to be) carried out, and accordingly, references to the day on which the service is to be treated as likely to be accessed by children are to be read as references to the day on which the Part 4B part of the service, the rest of the service or the search engine of the service (as the case may be) is to be treated as likely to be accessed by children.
- (3) References to a children’s risk assessment of the service are to a children’s risk assessment of the Part 4B part of the service, the rest of the service or the search engine of the service (as the case may be).

- (a) providers of Part 3 services must be able to understand which provisions of the code of practice apply in relation to a particular service they provide;
  - (b) the measures described in the code of practice must be sufficiently clear, and at a sufficiently detailed level, that providers understand what those measures entail in practice;
  - (c) the measures described in the code of practice must be proportionate and technically feasible: measures that are proportionate or technically feasible

- 4 The online safety objectives for regulated user-to-user services are as follows—
- (a) a service should be designed and operated in such a way that—
- (i) the systems and processes for regulatory compliance and risk management are effective and proportionate to the kind and size of service,
  - (ii) the systems and processes are appropriate to deal with the number of users of the service and its user base,
  - (iii) United Kingdom users (including children) are made aware of, and can understand, the terms of service,
  - (iv) there are adequate systems and processes to support United Kingdom users,
  - (v) (in the case of a Category 1 service) users are offered options to increase their control over the content they encounter and the users they interact with,
  - (vi) the service provides a higher standard of protection for children than for adults,
  - (vii) the different needs of children at different ages are taken into account,
  - (viii) there are adequate controls over access to the service by adults, and
  - (ix) there are adequate controls over access to, and use of, the service by children, taking into account use of the service by, and impact on, children in different age groups;
- (b) a service should be designed and operated so as to protect individuals in the United Kingdom who are users of the service from harm, including with regard to—
- (i) algorithms used by the service,
  - (ii) functionalities of the service, and
  - (iii) other features relating to the operation of the service.

- (3) In a code of practice that describes measures for the purpose of compliance with the duty set out in section 12(3)(a), OFCOM must recommend (among other things) age verification or age estimation which is such of a kind, and which is to be used in such a way, that it is highly effective at correctly determining whether or not a particular user is a child (see section 12(6)).
- (4) In deciding which kinds and uses of age verification or age estimation to recommend for the purpose of compliance with the duty set out in section 12(3)(a), OFCOM must have regard to their guidance under section 82 that gives examples of kinds and uses of age verification and age estimation that are, or are not, highly effective at correctly determining whether or not a particular user is a child.
- (5) Nothing in sub-paragraph (2) is to be read as allowing OFCOM to recommend, for the purpose of compliance with the duty set out in section 12(3)(a) by providers subject to the requirement in section 12(4), a kind or use of age verification or age estimation which does not meet the requirement to be highly effective as mentioned in section 12(6).

Content of codes of practice: proactive technology

- 13 (1) If OFCOM consider it appropriate to do so, and in accordance with the principles to which they must have regard (see paragraphs 1 and 2 and, in particular, 10(2)), they may include in a code of practice a measure describing the use of a kind of technology.
- (2) But there are constraints, set out in the rest of this paragraph, on OFCOM’s power to include in a code of practice a measure describing the use of proactive technology as a way (or one of the ways) of complying with a duty set out in this Act (a “proactive technology measure”).
- (3) A proactive technology measure may be recommended only for the purpose of compliance with any of the duties set out in—
- (a) section 10(2) or (3) (illegal content),
  - (b) section 12(2) or (3) (children’s online safety),
  - (c) section 27(2) or (3) (illegal content),
  - (d) section 29(2) or (3) (children’s online safety), or
  - (e) section 38(1) or 39(1) (fraudulent advertising).
- (4) A proactive technology measure may relate to the use of a kind of technology on or in relation to any Part 3 service or any part of such a service, but if the technology operates (or may operate) by analysing user-generated content or metadata relating to such content, the measure may not recommend the use of the technology to analyse user-generated content communicated privately, or metadata relating to user-generated content communicated privately.
- (5) A proactive technology measure may be included in a code of practice in relation to Part 3 services of a particular kind or size only if OFCOM are satisfied that use of the technology in question by such services would be proportionate to the risk of harm that the measure is designed to safeguard against (taking into account, in particular, the risk profile for the time being published by OFCOM under section 98 relating to such services).
- (6) In deciding whether to include a proactive technology measure in a code of practice, OFCOM must have regard to the degree of accuracy, effectiveness and lack of bias achieved by the technology in question, and may—
- (a) refer in the code of practice to industry or technical standards for the technology (where they exist);
  - (b) set out principles in the code of practice designed to ensure that the technology or its use is (so far as possible) accurate, effective and free of bias.
- (7) Sub-paragraph (6) does not apply in relation to proactive technology which is a kind of age verification or age estimation technology.

- (a) any representations made, and evidence provided, by the person, and
  - (b) the effects of the failure (or failures) in respect of which the penalty is imposed.
- (2) In the case of a penalty imposed by a confirmation decision, OFCOM must also take into account any representations made, and evidence provided, by any other person to whom the earlier provisional notice of contravention relating to the same matter was given.
- (3) OFCOM must also take into account—
- (a) in the case of a penalty imposed by a confirmation decision, any steps taken by the person towards—
