

BEFORE WE BEGIN: Please take note, that we do not want to witchhunt Using or any of the moderators involved in this document, no raiding, no riots, no attacking, thank you. This document was only made to spread awareness of the currently on-going issues in RHS. The moderators know about it, as well as Using, no need to insist more. Thank you

In this document is a compilation of proof we have acquired through our own groupchat, the Team Atlas moderation server, Red Manta development server (where we logged banned players) as well as comments from former moderators before us.

1. Proof of me being a former moderator:

https://drive.google.com/file/d/1k89A5RAU_rFui9RU5v2Hh-D0uOnC5pGs/view?usp=drivesdk

If you would like to further validate my involvement with Robloxian Highschool, I am still a "Tester " in their group. This is the same group part of Robloxian Highschool gamepage.

2. <https://www.roblox.com/games/447452406/Robloxian-High-School>

The problem

Robloxian Highschool is a roleplaying game where players can create any kind of characters with advanced outfit creation tools, and housing system, etc, the game is much more advanced than the likes of "Meepcity" and due to this... It has left the door open for players abusing in-game tools to create NSFW avatars, Strip Clubs, engage in ERP, expose pornography to children, gore, etc..

We USED to have in+game moderation, until it was taken away from us thanks to two rogue mods, JannisCreep1, and Undercover_Borb abusing their powers.

without In-game moderation, these issues will only get worse, and have already caused the game's own downfall and potential removal. This can also very much lead to the endangerment of the children that play Robloxian High School. The owner, Using is not willing to listen to us, and still thinks having Roblox API handle reports rather than human moderators will help the game.. (It will not)

Here are just SOME of the very avatars we've had to deal with on a daily basis

Higher-up mismanagement

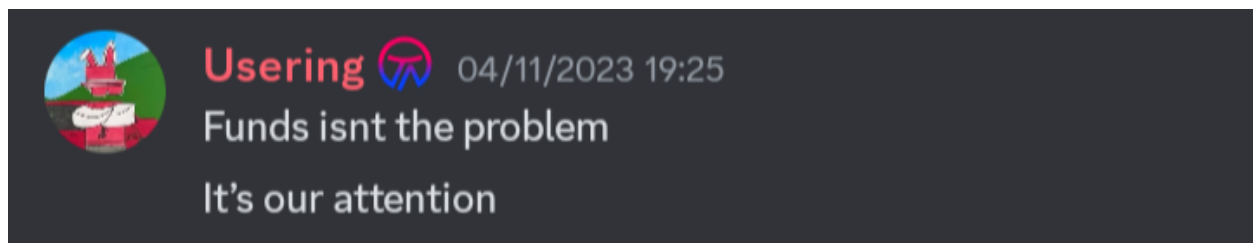

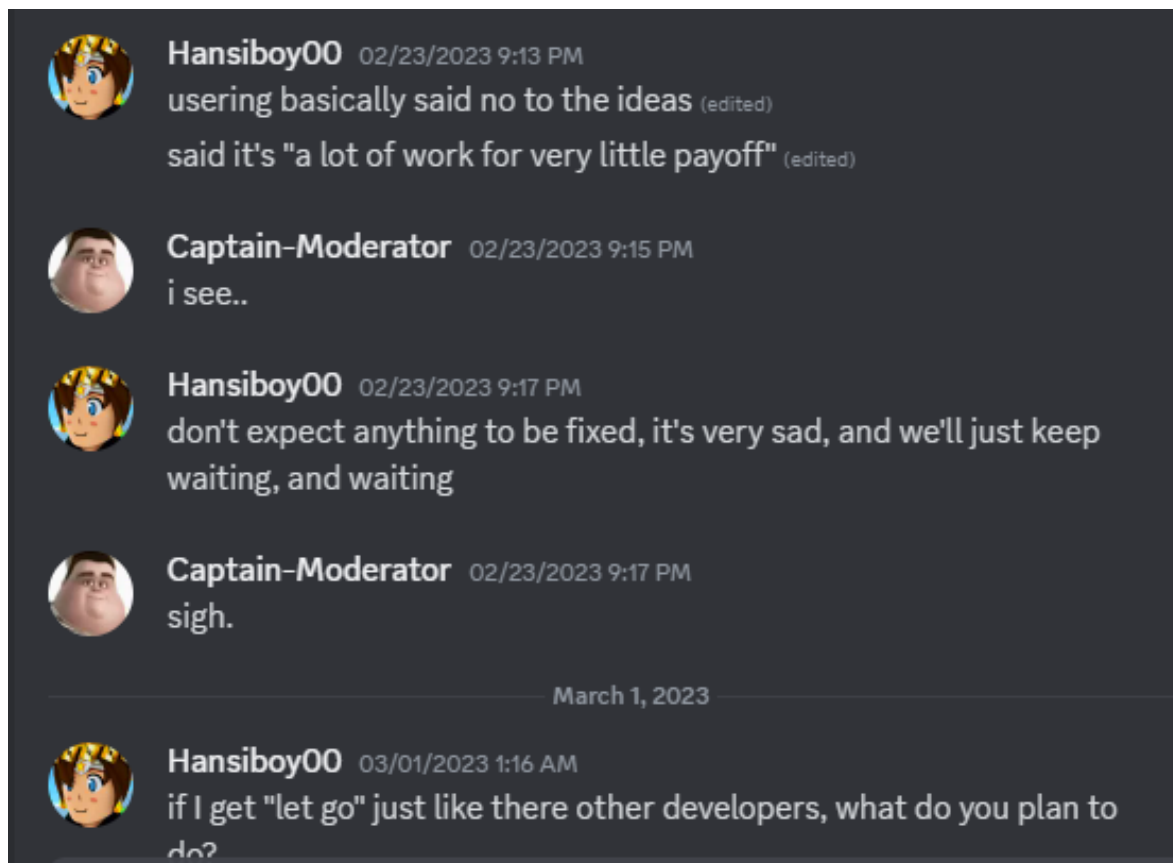

Usinging, and by extension, Team Atlas have been caught on numerous occasions mismanaging their own staff.. Seeming to prioritize revenue over player protection.

A scripter who was hired to help Hansi with development of RHS being let go for having to take a family vacation, and Hansiboy00 being let go last month for RHS earnings not reaching enough funds.

Usinging has tried to hide this under the rug, and makes no promises to update the game even after years of us asking for improved in-game moderation tools

We've also talked with staff within Team Atlas

Who've told us to NOT do our job, and instead report offenders to Roblox.

 Using Funds isnt the problem

Hey guys I never lied, I have other responsibilities

We are still making progress on this RHS update, and will be giving my attention to RHS tomorrow to deliver on the update promised in # announcements

 @Hansiboy00 there are no plans whatsoever right now, I guarantee nothing

 Fruittooops 10/06/2023 8:31 PM

This should be something I would like to be added. For now the outfit command only extends to outfits the user has made, and if we are to track down users who share inappropriate outfits to alternative accounts... We need a way to fetch those outfits.

 Hansiboy00 10/06/2023 8:33 PM

what do you suggest? who do I take it to?

I've already taken it to using, even alex, I've complained about it many times, it won't make much of any difference how much I complain

 Fruittooops 10/06/2023 8:34 PM

Well, we've been asking for some way to moderate the community market for a while. Having a way to also track whatever outfit someone redeems from the market can also help us track the codes for removal.

 Hansiboy00 10/06/2023 8:34 PM

I would want that too, will it happen? I don't know, but things aren't going great the response will be the same, again and again until I can actually say "yes, we will finally have better moderation" but I cannot say that we have what we have, it is not enough really, but I can't make anyone budge

there's no amount of complaining any of us can do, this is it, this is what we have for now, we must deal with it, if you can't handle it all, I understand, if it's too stressful, you can ask to not be a game mod anymore, because even as me and wenetone were mods, we got burnt out too

 Hansiboy00 10/06/2023 8:47 PM

In the end, we are just sitting here complaining to each other how bad moderation is, and nothing is being done, and some things aren't allowed to be done.

 coolfredbear2005 we would need hansi also to speak out against using though

Hansiboy00 🏆 Today at 18:51

why would I do that? I am happy to not deal with seeing such evil in the game, and can move on to somewhere better well. we have concerns for rhs, we worry about its future, and we are really wondering if theres a possibility rhs can get a shed of light sometime sooner, since the start of this year things have been taking a decline, our moderation tools to stop offending users ingame cant seem to hold up, and the ban evaders are widespread, we as a gc are on the same page, and we wish for rhs to get some help with things, as in coders etc, we all have concerns for hansu carrying the entire game on their back, which is one of the reasons why we are here today

@Tokaliz

Like these are the things that kids are being exposed to on a daily basis, Having such an amazingly complex editor is great, but of course it comes with people abusing their freedom of creativity, Which would be fine if we could deal with them, but as i said, We can ban someone, but it means nothing when all that they have to do is make another account in literal seconds, And after making that account they can immediately give themselves the same avatar by copy pasting the outfit code, again this is due to the game being neglected, the avatar marketplace is so flawed, we literally were never given the ability to moderate the marketplace, which is why people can copy paste these outfits to their alts in seconds (edited)

Captain-Moderator 20/10/2023 19:14

alts have become a very very very large issue with the moderation system as we got really little to no way to stop them more effectively, the marketplace aswell has zero moderation we cant erase outfits that break the rules causing these outfits to plague servers with no way to stop it

Tokaliz 20/10/2023 19:15

I see, thanks for explaining the ongoing issues

Captain-Moderator 20/10/2023 19:15

"Adffd" is one of the most notorious ban evaders that has been doing this

Captain-Moderator 20/10/2023 19:11

we ask for the littlest, atleast an acc age checker to keep alts out as simple as this code

– (edited)

function accage(player) if player.AccountAge >= 14 then -- number indicates how old the acc has to be else player:Kick("Place your message here") end

game.Players.PlayerAdded:connect(accage)

even the smallest for now could make a huge difference

Tokaliz 23/10/2023 16:45

Hello, I finally have a response regarding the state of RHS.

I'll be addressing the main points in separate sections so bare with me 🤔

Tokaliz 23/10/2023 16:57

RHS's Game State

On a literal standpoint, RHS as it currently stands is not a priority for the company at the moment, as more resources are currently being put into more successful games and new titles that the company is producing; HOWEVER, this does not mean that RHS is being ignored as a whole. The game is simply not a priority at this time but will still be looked at in the foreseeable future to make improvements and changes to the game once these new titles are finished and other big titles at TA are finished in terms of improvements. PLEASE NOTE, as a company we generally want to focus on our more successful games and monetize them at their fullest potential (ex: Creatures of Sonaria recode) as it will generally give the company more wiggle room for hiring new coders for games like RHS and increase the size of our team that we can use to spread out for more of our games. That's not to say RHS wasn't a large and successful game but overall it'll get its spot in the limelight in due time, it's just not feasible at the moment since it's not pulling in as much revenue as the company would like atm in comparison to some other games in a similar state.

RHS Moderation

From what I've been told by the PM, you are not required to moderate the issue of ban evaders and general NSFW on the platform. Cases like these are generally something that ROBLOX moderators should take care of. Having dealt a similar case in CoS, my best advice is to ask reporters to report these users via the ROBLOX report function, as doing so will help get said offender's account banned from ROBLOX rather than continuously banned off of the game. I know it's not the answer you want to hear, but overall the PMs wish for you to focus on the Discord and leave cases on ROBLOX to the ROBLOX moderators who are responsible for taking care of harassment and rule breaks on their own platform.

As mentioned previously, the best I can do is give you a clearer answer for your concerns above but to sum it up once more. RHS is currently being put on the backburner while the company focuses on releasing new games and polishing up some of their older titles. Something that will eventually happen for RHS but more so in the foreseeable future rather than now. As a company the PMs generally want to expand their horizons to help them hire more people to work on games like RHS instead of spreading thin like what's happening right now. In addition for moderation, it shouldn't be your responsibility to take care of cases that happen in game and is advised to notify ROBLOX support via the report system in order to get these accounts banned permanently from ROBLOX rather than just banned from RHS.

The game is not being abandoned, but at the same time resources are being pulled to other games at the moment because there's just not a ton of players for RHS atm unfortunately and it's not really benefiting the company in a major way because of the lack of ccu and revenue. I'm sure developers like Hansi will continue to release stuff for the game and make improvements here and there but in terms of major changes that's just left for the future.

HippyDipps 23/10/2023 16:59

Now, the second point there is a problem, because RHS outfits are not linked to Roblox outfits, bypassed decals are a different matter

Tokaliz 23/10/2023 17:00

With ROBLOX's new report feature, you're able to add a dot via a "Screenshot" to point out the issue with the content. I believe ROBLOX takes into account users making inappropriate material using game resources by utilizing that. While it's not linked to ROBLOX itself it's still a game on ROBLOX regardless.

Oh that's a good thing to know now.

But we still need some way to stop the spread of the inappropriate avatars

Tokaliz 23/10/2023 17:02

Again, according to the PM's it was never a general responsibility for moderators to take care of in game content as that's the job of ROBLOX moderators. We had the same issue in CoS and was told the same thing.

Stuff like that will always be an issue unfortunately but it's good to provide users the knowledge needed to properly report these avatars by utilizing the report system that ROBLOX provides.

HippyDipps 23/10/2023 17:02

I remember us saying this before on here a few times but, we still cannot remove inappropriate content from the marketplace it doesn't matter if the user is banned, as any user can still take those outfits Share them with eachother, and so on.

Tokaliz 23/10/2023 17:03

I see, you'll probably have to talk to Usering then cause I can't really help on that part, if the inappropriate content remains on the platform regardless on if the user is reported or not I think that'd be good to mention to him.

HippyDipps 23/10/2023 17:04

Would it be possible for us to somehow reach out to Usering? First we tried he redirected us to you.

HippyDipps Today at 10:28

Hello, Usering! Me as well as the rest of the RHS moderation team were just talking with Rachel earlier, though even with this we still have some concerns regarding RHS and its moderation.

We were informed by Rachel about using Roblox's new image reporting option, and while this is great... It unfortunately still leaves one massive loophole/problem with RHS. Which is what I would like to discuss..

User creations stored within the avatar marketplace are still able to be used/redeemed by other players.. And unless we have a feature as moderators to remove these outfits, the problem will only continue unless we have a way to stop it.

If we want to stop users from redeeming/getting their hands on inappropriate outfits.. We need to take care of it from the source, and not just from us banning those players/alts/reporting them to Roblox.

We need to remove their outfits from the source.. (The Marketplace.) (edited)

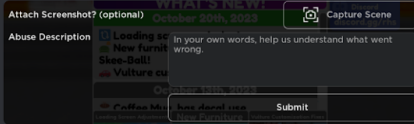

Captain-Moderator RHS Moderation From what I've been told by the PM, you are not required to moderate the issue of ban evaders and general NSF-W on the platform. Cases like these are generally something that ROBLOX moderators should take care of.

Captain-Moderator 24/10/2023 21:58
i got a feeling PM doesnt know anything going on, and to think roblox moderation can just deal with it if that was the case, rhs wouldnt exist roblox moderation would rather go after the game instead of the offending users we saw this with meepecity and whatnot.

HippyDipps 24/10/2023 21:59
We can also bring up to them our other concerns, about Roblox game content being potentially used to get RHS deplatformed, which is not a good thing we do not want that
And we most certainly do not want another meepecity situation

Captain-Moderator 24/10/2023 21:59
thats the largest of concerns.. one moment i got something (edited)

22:00 so.. roblox actually added a tool to their report system. that could actually cause rhs to get deleted as a whole picture this, you got an angry ban evader who wants back at rhs, what if they screenshot a really bad server and send that off to roblox as a offending game

this is why im concerned because this is entirely a possibility

HippyDipps 24/10/2023 22:01
I dont blame you.

Captain-Moderator 24/10/2023 22:01
from what i remember, some ban evaders kept breaking rules just to get rhs a bad look and get it deleted if you remember, hansiboyhater1 - 35, with those horrid plant avatars that was horrid

HippyDipps 24/10/2023 22:01
Exploiters in particulars have also abused the report function to get games deleted based off models

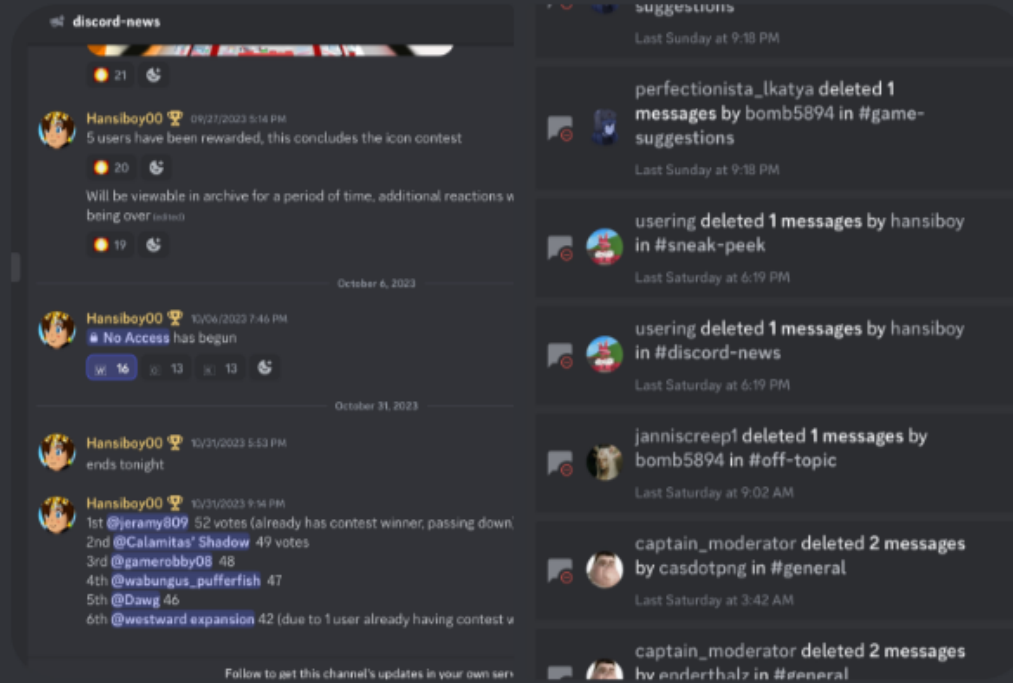

Captain-Moderator 24/10/2023 22:01
oh yeah
exploiters at one point this year were framing innocent users with their starterplace games

HippyDipps 24/10/2023 22:02
who's to say Roblox won't look at a user created content from RHS and assume this violating content was actually from the game

Vampire 07/11/2023 21:00

So Usering deleted Hansi's last goodbye message and regarding updates being paused seemingly for no reason.

happy 07/11/2023 21:01

maybe hansi is gonna be back?
orrr something different

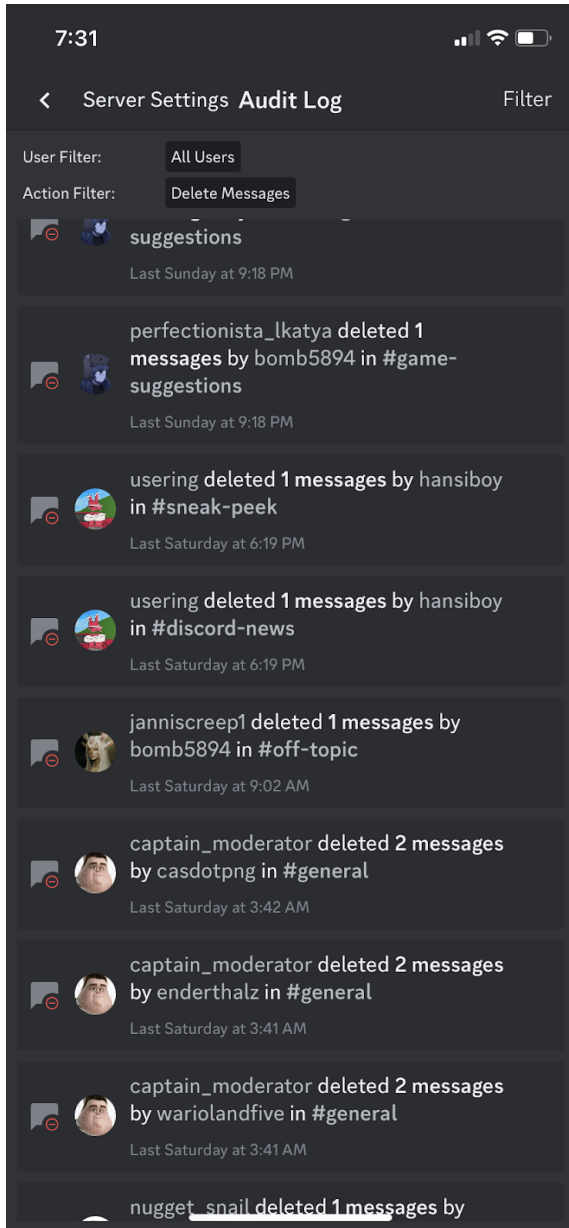

Vampire 07/11/2023 21:03

I doubt Hansi is going to come back

He seemed like he was happy no longer managing the game

It was also revealed to us through a former moderator much before us that Using never liked the idea of in-game moderation given what has now happened after Jannis and Borb's demotion... We can confirm this, as we have talked with Using with little success, even after us pleading to bring back the moderation, Using instead prioritizes revenue rather than the safety of players, following much in the same footsteps as Alexnewtron..

"i know that in-game moderation probably won't make a comeback because of what Jannis did, but it does somewhat confuse me that due to one Mod's poor actions that not only were all Mods removed, but everyone was unbanned,

I know this probably won't make much of a difference but I truly wish that there could at the very least just be 1-3 in-game mods or so, very few, i know it wouldn't be much of a difference in terms of keeping the nsfw avatars away, but i feel like it'd be better than zero moderation, at least while we're waiting for the new Roblox photo reporting Moderation, and who knows how long we'll have to wait for that,

Which also if/when we do get that new sort of moderation, in-game Mods will still end up being required anyways because a system like that is gonna result in a LOT of false bans, Someone needs to be there to manually unban people, you've spent a lot of time on Roblox so I'm sure that you know how terrible their moderation is, False Bans/Warns happen all the time,

There are also some things that Roblox will never be able to moderate, I know that there's the whole idea of "it's Roblox's job to deal with these things and if their moderation can't deal with it then they're at fault because it's their responsibility not ours", But at this rate if Roblox does something or notices Rhs then they're just going to take down Rhs as a whole, And i wouldn't entirely blame them, I just don't want it to come down to that ever,

There are things that Roblox cannot moderate that we did

there are things that Roblox cannot moderate that we are moderate in order to protect the children on the platform, Roblox cannot exactly identify and ban literal pedophiles that we have caught for their wrong doings via Discord, Since everyone was unbanned there are some NOTORIOUSLY horrible people that have come back to playing the game, People who literally prey on children and know how to not get caught by ROBLOX'S Moderation, I was literally just in a server with some of them, They were mocking this whole situation and mocking Rhs and mocking you, saying things like "THE FREAKS ARE FREE", These people were banned for things like sending people literal irl child porn, and exposing children to images of irl gore, and more, But they do it in a way that Roblox Moderation will never be able to catch,

I miss moderating for Rhs in-game so much, I have no idea how to prove to you that some of us can be trusted, All that I can really think is that you could ask Hansi about some people such as Me, and Jeramy, and Fruit, our records are entirely clean, I'm on the verge of stopping playing Rhs all together because I join a public server and I immediately see all of these horrible people and I'm quite literally helpless to it, I used to be able to stop them and it made me feel very productive, But now I just sit there and watch them mock this whole situation and do terrible things and it breaks my heart, I only want what's best for Rhs and I just wanted to say that there are certain people who should truly remain banned, I don't know how to get through to you but if you could just hear us out it would mean the world to us" banned users that the in-game mods have worked hard on banning that are now unbanned are an actual danger to children.

those people will continue their toxic and predatory actions if in-game moderation is removed. and esp if they get unbanned from the unbanning of ever user in rhs.

roblox moderation will not be able to ban or moderate these people. in-game moderation is very important piece for avatar games like this.

thank goodness, i thought you were replacing it with a chat moderation ai was about to have a heart attack

It has gotten so bad, that many of these same degenerates Usering unbanned with moderation removal, have began mocking Usering, and made even more fetish avatars, you cannot go next to two seconds in RHS now without seeing an NSFW avatar.

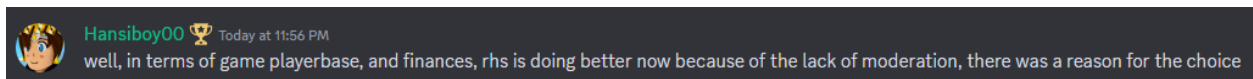

With Using's neglect of RHS, the game serves as a good example of why leaving advanced games with little to no moderation is a bad thing, not listening to your community, or own staff for ways to fix it, and so... so much more.

If there is anything more you would like from me you are free to DM me personally @hippydipps on Discord, thank you so much for taking the time to read all this.

UPDATE November 22nd

It has been more than a week since in-game moderation was removed. Despite us all trying to convince Using to add back in-game moderation.. Hansi who still has connections with Using has confirmed to us the reasoning for Using's removal of in-game moderation. Our suspicions... As unfortunate as they are, were right.

According to Hansiboy, RHS's player count has increased since the removal of moderation. And, that the decision was made for the sake of money. Or "business" Using does NOT CARE about the safety of Roblox players going in and out of RHS, and only sees users abusing the platform as a means of gaining more money. Playing RHS in private servers is now the only safest way to play the game to not be exposed to rule violating content.

Hansiboy00 🏆 Today at 11:57 PM

it may not be a choice we like, but it's what is better for business

Hansiboy00 🏆 Today at 12:02 AM

I will say I recommend playing in private servers, as it will be the safest place to continue playing rhs

We'd also like to give a mention to a thread by TheJevil2005, a frequent user of RHS. And their own personal experience before the ordeal. Thanks for reading, and please spread the word!

UPDATE November 25th

Using still continues to ignore and ghost us about the situation, seeming to only appear in the official Discord server just to calm the storm. Regardless of us asking him to add back in-game moderation, asking him why he decided to switch to Roblox's API, he has ignored us. Instead going directly onto the public Discord server just to say "hi" with no updates.

It has also been 7 days since the original promised date for the "big" Robloxian Highschool update. It has still not been delivered.

Those avatars are why we need moderation

Using had added the "new" update breaking many features Hansi made for years, reverting the map back, and breaking many vehicles the Discord server had begun taking notice. And in the same wake of this update, Using still refuses and ignores the countless suggestions to add back in-game moderation. Blissful ignorance at its finest.

Using also began timing out users simply for criticizing the latest update... We have proof of this VIA Audit logs.

 hippydipps was banned. | Leaking Moderation

Toka1is purely banned me for exposing Using's false time-outs being handed to people purely for criticizing the latest game update, she apologized for not knowing who I am... But the owner silencing people JUST for criticism that wasn't even meant to attack him with reasonings such as "Calm down" is not ok. And this ban shouldn't have happened.

They have now also created a rule to avoid "The spread of information about moderation" to avoid witchhunts. This update came at a very coincidental timing with the document.

They're now also trying to hide the game's problems by completely removing the #avatar-reports channel

If you have received this Document, please try to avoid speaking out about it publicly on the server! Talk about it just on Social media, please continue to spread the word out there! It's working. Thank you!

9 Do Not Publicly Discuss Moderation Actions

- Do not share information about moderation actions taken against you or others to avoid potential witch hunts and protect user privacy.
- As mentioned before, if you would like to discuss our moderation system, members on the staff team, or anything related, please reach out via @*ModMail

10 No Self-Promotion, Soliciting, or Advertising

- Do not advertise any form of media without explicit permission or the appropriate role(s).
- This includes, but is not limited to: Discord servers, social media posts, YouTube videos/channels, etc.

15 Do Not Attempt To Bypass Rules By Technicality or Find Loopholes

- Staff may warn you or take other moderation action if you attempt to find loopholes or excuses for inappropriate behavior through what the server rules and guidelines have not explicitly specified. If you'd like to ask about or discuss the rules, please contact us through @*ModMail.
- We cannot list every possible situation or scenario. Please use common sense while interacting with others in this server.
- If a moderator feels like you are negatively influencing the community, appropriate action will be taken.

Toasty [SheplshBae] ✨ Today at 6:14 PM

- Removed #avatar-report, #avatar-report-discussion, #avatar-report-info
* To ensure the safety of the community, the above channels have been removed to ensure community members are not exposed to NSFW in this server. In-Game Moderation is still currently being looked into.

Dephrenn's story: (TW/Grooming/pedophilia)

Dephrenn  Today at 11:52

I'm Dephrenn, another player from RHS. The fact RHS, or in this case Using, doesn't care about the community disgusts me deeply. Without in-game moderation, more people are being risked to encounter dangerous people and be exposed to content they should not be seeing ANYWHERE on Roblox. What kept these issues in line were the moderators, who had helped ban and eliminate people that break the rules.

A few years ago, I was playing normally with friends. I had a friend named Metro, and he and I used to be close. He was odd and acted suspicious around others, mostly to me though. At the time, I was around 13-14 and his age was unknown but rumored to be 15-17, we played together very frequently and he started to grow an interest in me as time went on. I had a relationship at the time and me and Metro were alone in a private server hanging out, until he came out with his feelings and told me "I want to be gay with you" and that he was aware I was in a relationship. I felt a little uncomfortable but I didn't want to lose his friendship so I just did what he wanted, and it got worse and worse as he started to be very sexual towards me and suggesting to ERP. I didn't know much at all at the time and unfortunately followed through because I didn't want to lose his friendship and was scared what he might do. Eventually I reached out to someone and confronted Metro about it, telling us that he was 14 but told others that he was 16. He lied about his age so I went to a moderator and reported what happened, getting him banned. Getting him banned stopped him from grooming and it stopped him from playing the game, potentially saving players and even younger children to fall victim to him.

There were a lot of people who were banned from the game for doing disgusting and hurtful things to many people, and it's thanks to the moderators that getting rid of them stopped them from playing the game. For whatever reason though, Using decided to unban EVERYONE from the game and that included people who were incredibly dangerous. Just recently, I saw Metro playing the game again and it left me feeling really unsafe as everyone we worked so hard to get banned were free. All of our efforts and work and safety went down the drain all for a few numbers on the player-count. Using has no intentions of re-banning these people as they still roam around in game carefree as he removed rules and abolished moderation, causing the game to be a dangerous hazard for kids. Kids who play this game will now be exposed to twice the content they should not be seeing and it disgusts me that they continued to create avatars that are incredibly freaking weird and disgusting.

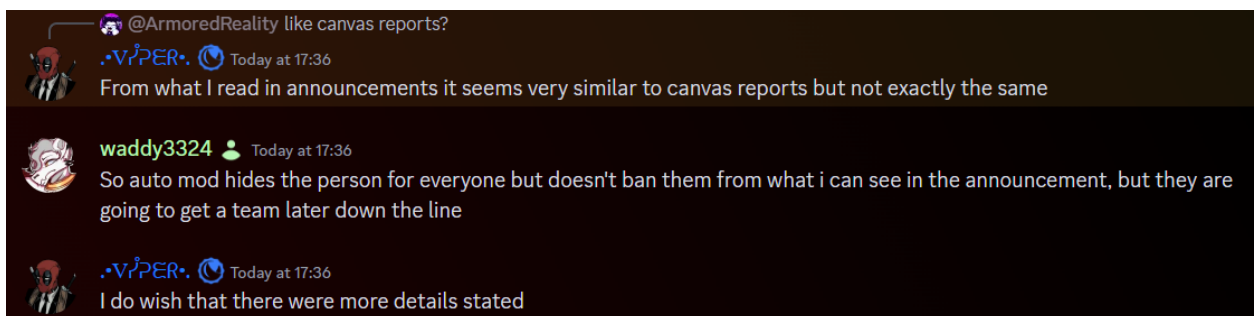

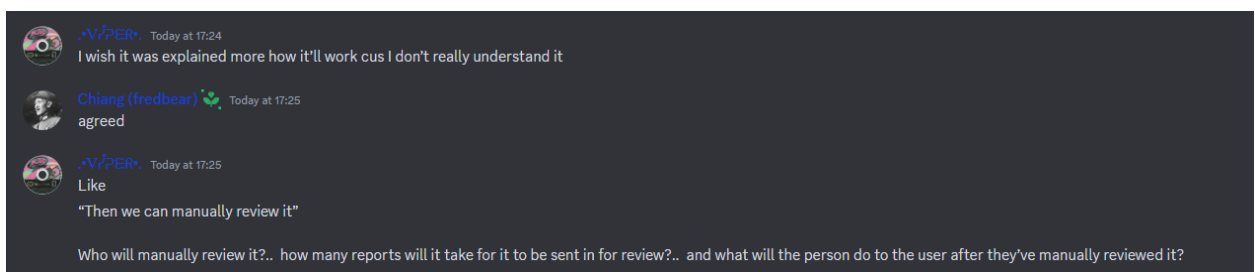

My friends and I, along with other people, spent hours in several dramas and several conversations to get these people off the game. But everything is thrown out the window because the owner believes the game does not need moderation and that Roblox can ban people in-game due to avatars.

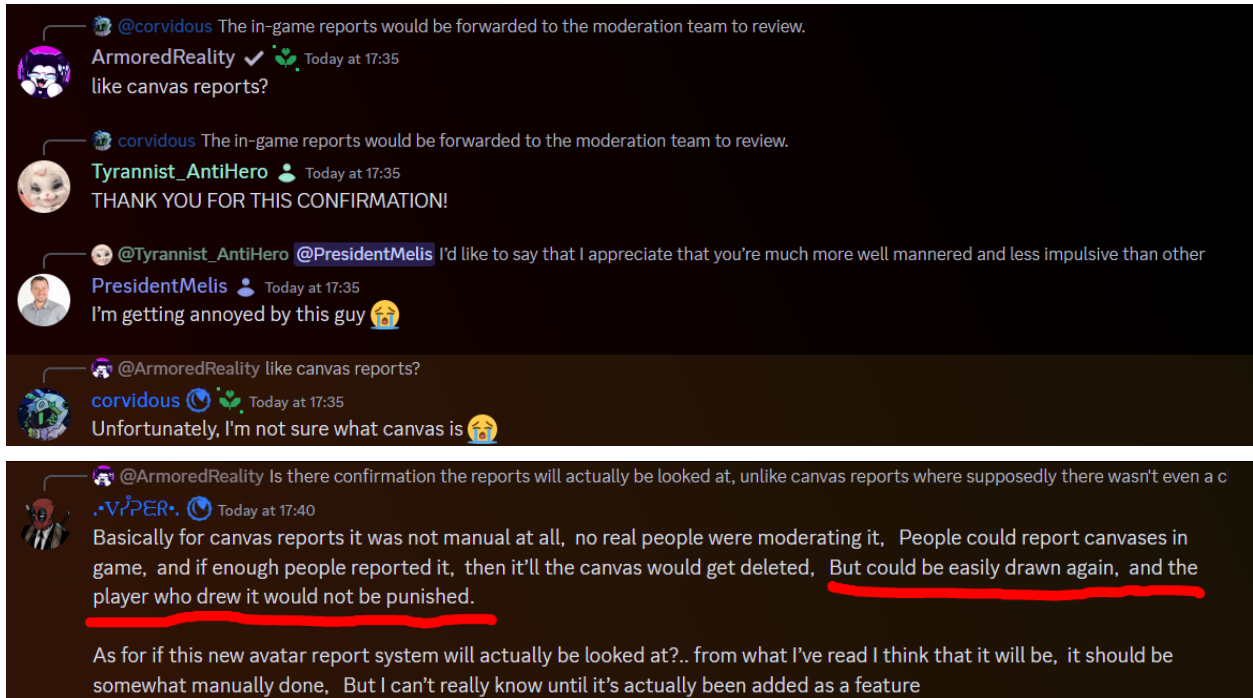

No, this isn't even true. Roblox is not responsible of user-based actions in experiences and only deals with the chat system. Roblox does not need to moderate your game because they're not in charge of the people in your game, YOU are. (edited)

Update November 28th

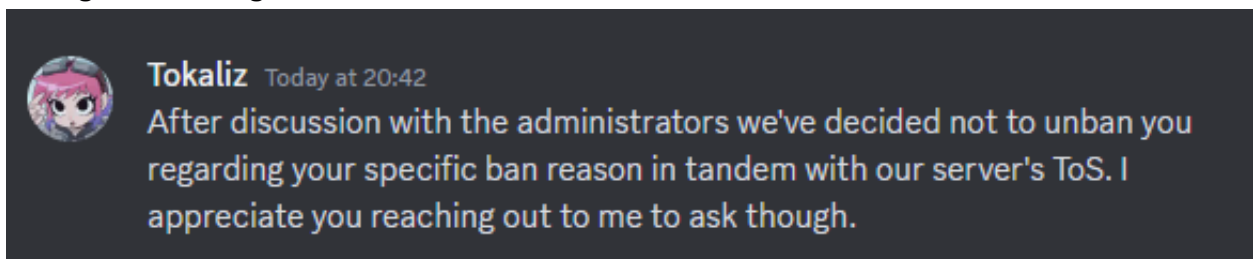

Using announced the return of RHS moderation however... From what it seems they're not actually moderation, the mod team has no idea how the new feature works... And it looks to be a repeat of the Canvas report functionality.

For context, Canvas report never actually sent logs or banned players for their action, instead... If enough people pressed the report button, the canvas got wiped. Users do not get any consequences for inappropriate content, and can easily redraw their inappropriate drawings.

After talking with Toka1is to unban me from the server, they still refuse to unban me for calling out Usering's false user timeouts.

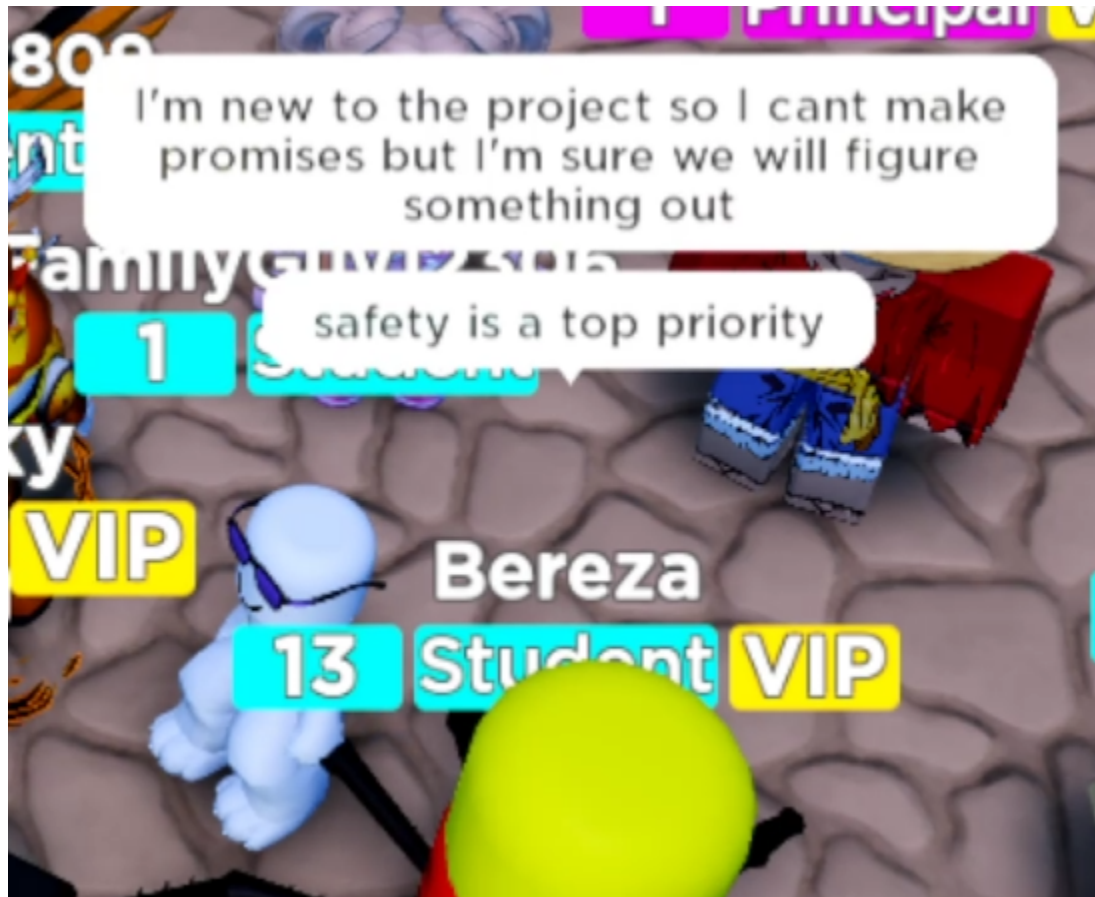

A video with Jeramy asking the new moderation team about manual in-game bans and Avatar Marketplace has been released of them ghosting/ignoring the questions regarding moderation and completely skipping the questions entirely. These mods claim that "safety is top priority" then why were our constant requests to Usering ignored? We've been asking for improved moderation for years, these problems happened in-game over the span of 3 years, being ignored and neglected for a very long time which led many of us to quit. Why were Jeramy's questions being ghosted...? Unless this update was only added as a way for them to try to save face...? It is the most likely case.. The proof is out there now.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=q7EGHfXdndc>

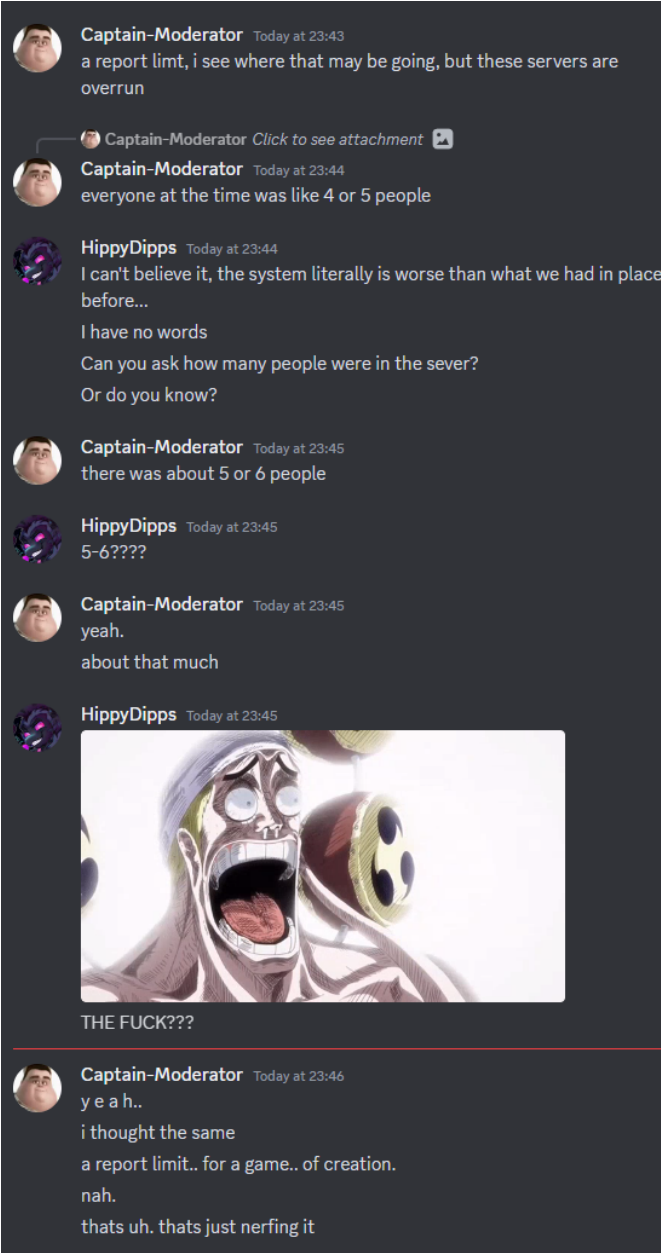

Usering  Today at 6:51 AM

rhs had no moderation for years and it was fine

Apparently, this system also has a report limit, and the report limit seems to be around 5-6 people! This new moderation feature is worse than our old one, Canvas reports, alts and Community marketplace will still be an issue!

00F_SUPR3ME's story

(this is a different person from above writing btw)

I am a player from the rhs community known as Oofy or 00F_SUPR3ME on Roblox and I have been in ALOT of dramas, and I just wanted to tell people about the constant drama and problems with RHS.

Multiple times I have literally had people try framing me to get me banned by making NSFW avatars of me, multiple times I have had people constantly harass me by hunting me down into every server I join, and multiple times I have had them banned for these things, and now Usering and his foolish decisions have unbanned a lot of the people who hate me (usually because I got them banned for horrible things like grooming or NSFW avatars) and NOW I have to deal with all of these dramas coming back at once, and it's really stressful. (ok that's the end of me telling my experience in rhs)
