Leona's Testimony:

CW: Manipulated me, stalked me, Basically lied to me about a bunch of stuff, said F slur to my friend and was using his suicide as attention to get sympathy.

My name is Leonel Rosario AKA Leona/Lionel Bunny my fursona name and former, I was unaware Of his actions when I met him as Brad Skybuster. He seemed like a nice person when he dated my future fiance, Billy. That wasn't till I found out that he was part of the furry raiders when he tried to get a room with Rick Fox that's when it got revealed that he was a Former furry raider and that's when things went down He disappeared and broke up with Billy, He became really depressed and I became really distraught because I felt like he was gonna be unhappy for the rest of his days but I cheered him up and we actually became really close friends until eventually we became a couple.

As for Toony, I never heard back since until way way later when one of my friends told me that he found him and I decided to at least give him a chance to improve because I thought naively, "he can become a better person, put his past behind him" I was totally wrong, It kept on acting up doing things that were completely unacceptable like scaring people into thinking that he was gonna kill himself showing us that gruesome art that I saved At the time because I was suspecting that he was gonna become a monster or a bad influence eventually, Then came as a recent where he basically got a bit mental and started to spat a lot of bad things to my friend and he basically said "I hope you F die, all of you" And that's what made me realize that he is Completely far gone, I told my friend to block him or ban him, tho he decided to give him 1 last chance since he's always trying to help people, the guy blew it and became really angry and left the server I was in, Then afterwards I came in contact with Vermey about the situation with Toonyx666 And he basically said that he was getting harassed and stalked by him on a Daily basis, infact our first convo was him asking if I was going to talk about what Toony told me, which I clearly said no, I was not here for toony, I was here to discuss what's going with the dude (Toony) I then told Vermey did he know that Toony commissioned an art piece of your and a bunch of other characters in a torture and gore art, he was shocked and never knew about it until I told him, I then sent the image and telling him that if he wants to go nuclear that I don't blame him since he's been a menace to everyone, he sent it to Aster, Clawy, Beta, Spitzzy, Duino I think and a bunch of other people, actually sent Billy the image first since he's my fiancé and he was appaled aswell, also Vermey kept me uncredited as the source because of Toony's actions of stalking which he started to do it to me recently over him getting blocked by people again, he's honestly mentally unwell and needs to get fucking therapy ASAP!

I wanted to add this tiny bit before I finish my Testimony, Toony Is the worst person I've ever met, He doesn't deserve anyone's friendship, or even my fiancé because he's always wanting our attention and changing his name so many dang times, its honestly pathetic, You know it's funny to think that I'm the one who pulled the trigger on getting him exposed 1 last time, never thought I can do that to ya, Toony.

Billy's Testimony:

CW: Catfished Me, Leaked My Private Images and Information Online, Stalked Me on the Internet, and Commissioned a Threatening Drawing of my Character and did it without Permission.

My name is Duane Thomas AKA Billy California(My Fursona Name) and I was previously unaware of this individual before this incident until I was informed about what he did after his identity was exposed. I first met him when he joined a Toon Telegram Group back in early 2022 under the name "Brad Skybuster" Shortly after, began messaging me a lot, and began dating him under this Alias Name. One day he randomly disappeared and stopped talking to me only for my concerns to be met with disbelief after the Chat revealed he was Fake and several of my friends in the Chat blocked me likely because I was dating this Fake. I was unaware of the Bad History he had with them and as mentioned before I never even heard about him. All this drama caused me to lose several of my friends as well as realize I was Catfished along with other Life Events at the time I fell into another deep depression and started drinking whiskey pretty heavily and a whole year and a half later I was informed of this Image this individual commissioned which had my Fursona in it Hanged holding a specific bottle of Whiskey I drank at the time. I'm so angry and deeply disturbed by this level of detail and now knowing that he stalked me and knowing the Far Right Wing Friends of a particular Furry group he affiliated with has me particularly on Edge! This individual "Toonyx" or whatever name he goes by is someone who is Mentally Deranged and something needs to be done before things get even worse. I also found out recently that he's also been Stalking and Threatening more of my friends and my Fiancé Leona after he was kicked from a Discord Server.

Clawy's Testimony:

CW: Stalking online and offline, Mentions of Murder and Rape, Block Evading, Commissioning/ Drawing Threatening art of my Character without permission.

My name is Tajjey, known in furry as Clawy. This is a timeline of my experience with Toonyx666.

I was first made aware of Toony in 2017 or 2018 when he wanted to buy a shirt design from me. I didn't have any in stock and informed him so, not knowing that this would prevent him from getting my personal information in the long run.

In February of 2019 I was informed by several individuals that Toonyy was not only in the Furry Raiders chat, but had drawn images of myself, MusicofLuie/Spitzzy the Clown Creature, and Vermey Fox and posted them there for other Raiders to egg on with heinous ideas such as Toonyy beheading Luie over a tree stump and myself gagged and chained to a wall. Of the individuals adding to his gorey drawing was one InuOkami. Once made aware of the situation I promptly blocked him and Inu on all social media. I had also filed a police report with local authorities and reported him to Texas Furry Fiesta security. At that point, I was informed that they had been banned from the convention. I would find out in a few years that was not the case. He had also made an attempt to join in a telegram chat that I was in but was immediately banned.

Fast forward to late February/early March 2022 where he joined back into the group chat under the alias Brad Skybuster. February it was discovered that he was stalking several of us in our fursuit maker's chat. At the beginning of March, it came forward that Brad was Toonyy, he had left the group voluntarily but at that time had messed up his relationships and manipulated other individuals such as harassing Billy whom he was dating/had catfished at the time. Further in March, he was found at Texas Furry Fiesta in attendance in spite of me contacting Security. He stalked me into BetaEtaDelota's panel (I was in fursuit) and as soon as I saw him there I left and contacted security again. I was informed that he had tried to follow me into the fursuit lounge but was declined from entering due to not being a suiter or a handler. I did not see him anymore that weekend.

March 2023 again we had brought this individual to TFF security and sure enough he was in attendance. I found him watching me from the hotel restaurant as I worked elevator security one night of the con.

After the convention, I was informed that his information was collected by security and he was banned.

September 1st, 2023 I was informed by Vermey and Leona that Toonyy had commissioned an art piece involving furs including myself, Billy California, Spitzzy/Luie, Snow the Fox, Orlando Fox, Duino, Vermey, Rudolph, and several other Toon Furs and people he had clashed with over the years. The artist responsible for the art piece is KittKatKoon (a racist) and while I will not go into detail about the torture piece, the image includes Toonyy, the racist known as Clyde Zebra, and the alt-right Moon man caricature.

As of today I say this, Toonyy is deranged beyond belief. I never wanted anything to do with him and I feel horrible for all of the people who had the misfortune of encountering him be it online or in person. To the people who did their best to try and help him change to be a better person, I have the utmost respect for you because I couldn't; thank you for having the heart to try. Stay safe everyone.

Toony, stay away from me, my friends, and everyone you have manipulated and ruined relationships with. The reason I initially blocked you, was because after having little to no conversation with you, you decided to draw me gagged and chained up against a wall. I had neither done nor said anything to you. Then you go and attack my friends for not wanting anything to do with you as well. Continuing to commission art of my character in situations of being murdered, raped, and violated is the final nail in the coffin.

My friend, someone I consider a brother, took the time to help you become a better person because he truly believed in you and you go and disrespect him. If in the future you somehow do change, good for you but I don't want anything to do with someone who continuously wants/wanted to see my friends and me dead.

Dusty's Testimony:

CW: Manipulated me, Stalked me, Lied to me about a bunch of things, Caused issues with my friends.

My name is Dakota but I go by Dusty the kitsune (My main fursona)

I don't really know where to start but I have never really known Toony or Kaitoons long enough, at first I thought he could change but I was wrong, he manipulated me, backstabbed me, lied to me, talked shit behind my back, he even caused issues in my server, I don't know the full story on that but he did try and cut himself on camera on my server in front of people.

Another thing I found out about him is his dislike of trans people. I don't know if it's true or not but I'm with someone who is trans and I don't want that around and hurting my relationship. I found out recently about his true colors and it's disgusting.

From all I heard from what people said about him, I don't blame people, he's a bad person. I'm not good with words and I don't have much to say except all this.

Joe's Testimony:

CW: Self-harm, Suicide Baiting, Death Threats, Manipulation.

My name is Andrew, you can call me Dewy, Joseph Gabriel or simply just J.G. My run-ins with Toonyyx happened around say from when I joined Dusty's server a while back. When I first heard of him, he had gone through rough shit and basically Dusty and his buddies are trying their best to keep him company the best they can.

Even I have tried to help straighten him out after an incident the Friday night of June 16 when me, Buck and Savvy (now Leona) were chatting with him about his mental issues. While both of my friends were AFK, I've tried to calm him down in one of his skitzo episodes. He briefly turned on the camera to show me a knife (which was a replica of the one from Scream, when he told me a day later) and attempted to cut himself in any position of the arm. I immediately screamed out "NO!" multitudes of times the moment I saw it happen and where he was indicating, he immediately turned it off and I woke up mom when she heard my screaming.

Toony told me not to tell everything about what has happened that night before signing off, not merely seconds later Dusty came to the vc and I've told a gist of the events for a bit which made him concerned about his well-being and would keep an eye on him. Later we had a discussion with Savvy and my bf about the same thing. Toony was kicked out of the server after the BF dm'ing Dusty about his attempted self-harm.

I too have tried to help him after the fact to just straighten him out and act like normal, but every time I talk to him in vcs both in private and my semi-public server it was always "The Furry Raiders and Vermy fucked me over" or "I'm worthless, you don't understand the point of how much I'm in mental pain over the last four fucking years" and who knows what.

In one of the last conversations I have with him, he vented to me about how Dusty, Ash and their friends "betrayed me behind and I hope they die horribly with a gunshot wound on their brains" which first off, how do you decided to shit talk about him and his friends when they the very people including I who're trying to help him move on and not dwell in the past? At this rate, he's gone too much in the deep end to the point that at that same conversation he flipped out and left private vc and spewed out an f slur along with "wishing death upon all of them and having their eyes popped out like it was a doll".

Then one day, he did eventually "cut" his arm up which scares me for a bit, I thought that he hurt himself in a meltdown until he replied: "don't freak out, it was merely scratches." Apparently the replica knife wasn't sharp enough that it left just marks on him, so yeah not fucking cool man. Eventually everything has to come down and with my mom and Savvy's advice I gave him an ultimatum that I'm giving him one last chance, if he doesn't cut out his miserable delusional doomery shit and act like normal reasonable people, he'll be risking permaban and being blocked from communication. I told him multiple times, he didn't listen and left my discord server in rage for the last time.

At this point the dominoes would come falling after him where I'm at now, as more people are becoming aware about his actions and that he's scaring people just for kicks along with his virtue-signaling/lies. An additional note that I've learn after I've experienced all of this shit is that Toonyy was contributing factor to why Dusty has bad blood between him and a popular user on social media as a sort of fucked up plan or alibi of his, which is a different story for another time. If you're reading this Tony, I wished for you to get some real serious psychic help but since you basically refused to listen to my advice and you don't trust any doctor's or mental hospitals as you tell me about this. Let me give it to you straight: until you show me some real changes to your personality and your sanity, I'm not willing to let you come back to my server and I'll be basically ignoring what you're saying unless you prove yourself with evidence. Till then, he's a lost cause to me and to my friends who tried to help him in the first place. I hope you get what you deserve.

On September 21st, 2023 Toonyyx666 began messaging me on Steam under an alias (Stupid Cat/Della) and began messaging overnight multiple times. I initially ignored the messages but answered on the 27th. He was very pushy with wanting to see my ref sheet and trying to get my discord username. I immediately told him off. I know the sick mess he does-Commission m*urder/s*icide art of others without consent or permission.
