

I am making this post about (@secretcorgii). Even though her name says "Comms open" do not get one.

Me and (@elcoffeecatto) have both been waiting on ANY information regarding our commissions.

Back in September me and my boyfriend commissioned a joint piece from Ida, we got 1 WIP a day later and after communication ceased. We paid $350. She told me she was moving and so I waited about a month for any sort of update before sending a dm requesting an update.

When I did not get a response at all I began sending a new DM roughly every month, all of which were ignored. I gave her the benefit of the doubt and thought she just wasn't on twitter much and the notifications just did not get through. Given that twitter can be crap at sending notifications sometimes it seemed very plausible. I also went on to suggest other points of contact in these dm's, but nothing came of it.

So I waited, and took periodic glances at her likes to see if she was active on twitter, which she was.

Then in march she posted a little animation for her bf Pyro. I thought that leaving a reply would have a high chance to be seen and so could give her a sign to look at our dm's. This did not happen, instead of her replying to me, it was another person who commissioned her (coffee). I went to their dm's and asked more about it, only to find out that they were waiting for their commission since June.

Back to the post, she had not replied or other acknowledged my tweet in any way, which became frustrating because after me and (Coffee) had made our replies, Pyro replied to the post after which she replied to him making me think that she has had seen the replies, though in all fairness she could have just been told by Pyro he replied. Still the likelihood she didn't see mine and Coffee's reply is very low in my mind, but I don't know for sure.

I then went into her dm's for a last chance to get any response at all by requesting a refund. I could not do a chargeback , since it had been too long for Paypal and for my bank.

So I am making this post in order to warn people to not commission her. This post is not made in any malicious intent towards her as I do not think this is a scam or a way steal money. I think this has just been one big error in communication and a lack of contact on her part.

Ida if you are reading this, I would like you a refund and for you to contact (Coffee) and any other potential people who also have commissions still running with you that haven't been contacted, and have them decide if they want a refund or not. I do not think you did this maliciously, but this has been an incredibly unprofessional and frustrating experience. As an artist you have an obligation to keep in contact with your clients, and if you can't, you should not have comms open. IRL situations of course take priority, but you should still inform your clientele of delays or outside circumstances instead of radio silence.

I hope this was all some big misunderstanding, and we can get this all resolved.

Below are screenshots of my dm's with Ida:

Hi! Is this account still in operation, would still love to get a commission from you, but it does not really seem like your account is that active anymore and there was no reply to my other message. So is this account still operational and comms open and if so I hope you can answer my question in the earlier message!

If not then i suppose I am writing this for nothing lol.

Heyy, Im still here sometimes I've just needed a long break from social media p much. Im down to take a commission tho if you're interested

Sep 20, 2023, 8:00 PM

Yeah totally! And thank you for your response! Can I leave all the deets in here?

Sep 20, 2023, 8:07 PM

definitely!

docs.google.com
lol

So my idea is a comm of me and my bf's sona, where my sona is sitting up against the top end of a bed and my bf's kobold is chilling ontop of my character's massive belly with his eyes close, while my sona looks at him satisfied. Google doc with ref images (nsfw since I believe this falls under the fetish stuff so i might as well have em naked):

Sep 20, 2023, 8:27 PM

I hope you like the idea, feel free to ask me for elaboration if stuff needs more elaboration or something

Sep 20, 2023, 8:29 PM

Oooh yeah thats cute! I can do that :>

The price for something like that would be $350 since its two characters and all

Sep 20, 2023, 8:31 PM

Awesome! So do I can drop my paypal email in here for you to send an invoice?

Sep 20, 2023, 8:31 PM

a detailed bg will be included ofc

Yeah definitely

send it!

Hi, it has been quite a bit since there has been contact about me and my bf's commission, I do not know whether or not this is because of something external or you are just not on twitter a lot. Just want to once again request an update on the comm, assuming you see this.

I do want to confess this has been kind of frustrating. But naturally if something has been happening IRL that naturally takes importance.

Hello, just wanted to send one last message regarding the commission. The lack of communication has made it clear to me you seem to not be willing/capable of finishing my commission. Assuming you see this dm I would like to request a refund, if not then I will be charging back through paypal.

No commission should take near 5 months without any form of communication from the artist. I have given you the benefit of the doubt as much as I could, but my patience has ran out.

Especially after finding out there was another person who has had the exact same problem with you currently as I do now.

So a word of advice, please close your commissions.

I am not assuming that this was out of malice, nor do I mean to be mean, but I have tried enough times.

I hope you improve your work ethic and communication skills in the future.

Admittedly I was a bit too harsh here in this last DM.
