

Chapter 1

Expungement

It was 20:30 PM in Salem, Massachusetts, a pretty quiet town right now. He had finished working and was already home then doing his laundry, eating, then after that cleaning the plate, brushing his teeth, setting his bed and then going to sleep. All of these are all done after he worked as one of the accountants at uncle rigatoni. As he closed his eyes to go to sleep, that is when his dreams danced mischievously. As he landed in his dreamworld, he saw himself in a hallway completely devoid of anything but the fancy red carpet and paintings, he tried to run through the hallway but doing so made the hallway more and more rotting as the walls grew with molds and paintings start to come to life and tried to attack him eventually he walked and as he walked the hallway revert back to its usual self after seemingly endless walk that feels like 6 hours he arrived at a large golden door with elaborate and grandeur decoration. He then tried opening it but the door won't budge so he tried taking out anything from his pocket. He tried and tried and eventually used his head and it worked, so the door opened and a bright light shone upon him. He awoke from his dreams and woke up sweating, it showed that it was 5:00 AM. So he went out of bed and did his bed. Then he did some jumping jack and then the plank for two times. After that he went to the kitchen to make a sandwich for himself, after that he brushed his teeth and showered. After he showered, he then wore his business suit and carry all his belonging. He then goes down from the stairs, opens the door then get to his car.

He turned on some music and starts second week of the first period of his job and puts his foot on to the pedal and start going to uncle rigatoni and after what approximately is 24 minutes he arrived at boston he make some few turns and going down the straight road until he arrived at uncle rigatoni earlier than his boss, Robert dexter and the other employee expected. He parked his car so almost near the waiter's motorcycle that he accidentally fell it. He enters the store and greets everybody in the restaurant and that includes the waiter too, in which they either ignore him or begrudgingly say good morning par the waiter ever being the most antagonistic and spiteful to elias so much that at the least he spat at him, there is of course an exception, Vincent who politely greeted him. He enters the office room on the uncle rigatoni and start working on the restaurant's spending history in boston. He saw through the exhausting amount of spending, borrowed money, fixing, customer hire, and earnings (which are thanks to him and the other office guys in the restaurant) and it was a sore to even doing it even though it gave him a lot of money, oh well. Eventually he was done searching through and double checking and saw it again for 4 more times. And so he brought the report to his boss while exhaustingly said to him " here, this is the spending history of uncle rigatoni joint in boston for today..." and his boss said " jeez, you look tired.. Why don't you just drink the condensed milk I bought for ya..? it'll be enough" and elias said " thanks.." Then with that elias was rejuvenated and started ploughing through this week's check until he has to have the meeting with his boss. break started after first part is done, While Elias thought about Waiting for things to happen, he overheard Vincent singing and chanting "I've got a chrome head Find it, pound it I've got steel arms Turn it, beat it", fine at first but gets annoying later on when he continue to work on the later booking and balancing .By 17:35 PM he was finished working, Exhausted and tired, Elias went back to his car and while navigating through the streets of Boston he saw a homeless old man sleeping on a bench. Naturally he wants to take photo of it He takes a photo of him because he carries a strange talisman and then goes back to his car and then rides back to his hometown where he lived. When he goes back to his house, he does the usual thing... doing his laundry, eating then after that cleaning the plate, brushing his teeth, setting his bed and then going to sleep. This time his dream weaved its magic playfully, he found himself in a battlefield trench, he saw on his right hand a knife. He tried to walk around the trench and when he turned a sharp left turn, a zombie jumped onto him and then the zombie overpowers him and he hold off the zombie by pushing the zombie face away from him and drive the knife into its head because of that The rotted humanoid left an opening by holding its hand in it's head and then elias stabs the zombie to death and then he shoved the knife to it's brain.

He climbed up from the trench, he walked along the grassland and tried to see if there was really anything. He walked for hours and hours on end until he came across a hooded man with that same strange talisman before. Elias said to him "who are you?" and the talisman wearing hooded skeleton said to him "Find the answer" in which Elias felt a sharp pain in his chest and he looked down to see a stab wound. Elias woke up, cold sweated, and saw on the clock that It was 4:47 AM. he did the same thing as yesterday morning. Let's work before we investigate, shall we? Many hours of work later, He soon arrived at the Boston police department. He then reported said photo to the police. The police didn't saw anything on it until he saw the talisman and the knife in which he was thanked for bringing the picture to the police this in turn makes elias very cautious but still he knew he was reporting it and so during the noon he watched the cable program network and when he saw one of it news section,he saw that the very photo he reported before was on the news and that was the one that makes elias think that the talisman thing will grow big but what he didn't knew was it will be a slow process of acceptance of the talisman as a fact.so he checked on social media and the news on the talisman thing was everywhere on social media and he thought to himself that maybe this whole thing will be infamous. So he went back to the police station to ask some question and when he arrived at the police station, he asked the commissioner if he could joined in on the whole talisman inspection thing but the commissioner refused but elias convincing the commissioner by saying "c'mon pal, I'll promise that I will not give the information out okay, after I just wanna do some investigation?" and the commissioner sigh and said "alright, but you will make it fast." And elias said "alrighty then.". then elias went into the archive room to find the file for the talisman, he find it for minutes after minutes until he get the archived information for it and then he ask the commissioner where is the talisman " the talisman is in holding cell specifically underground, it's in a specialized holding room and it's called 5A though I'll warned you. YOU will get possessed by it" and elias said "thanks" so he went to the police holding cell by using an elevator to the underground and try to find the holding cell for the talisman and he enters a section of the holding cell which is called A but before that the security guards which wore bulletproof vest and protective helmet check him for anything dangerous which then he was allowed to enter. he found a room with the symbol 5A written on it and then enter it. He then enters a room in which he sees half of a talisman is made out of silicone while the other half is some sort of material like tungsten and gold. He took a photo of the talisman and then he went over to grab and wear the talisman. He proceeds to grab his phone out of the pocket and start recording. Elias asks the question of " why did you possess the guy?" he was answered by the sweet sound of nothing and then he said it loudly "WHY DID YOU POSSESSED THE GUY?!" and then Elias tried to wear it and then the talisman said some gibberish stuff. Elias said to him again "who are you and when you were born?" the talisman puts out a babbling similar to a white noise of a radio then he asked again "why are you like this?" then the talisman said nothing, Elias asked him again "why are your memories gone?" the talisman said nothing again. Elias sigh and wore off the talisman then press the stop button on the recorder and said to himself "maybe I'll ask the commissioner. No, he would arrest me" he then put the talisman in his pocket before he went out of the 5A holding cell and then went out of the A section of the holding cell complex but before that he was stopped by security guards checking anything on him, it all goes well until one of the security guards felt something like a half circle on his pants then the security guards took out the talisman and another security guards escorts him outside meanwhile the talisman is put back into it's holding cell. On outside of the holding cell, elias gets onto his car after he was escorted outside and goes on to the journey way home...

Just your mind

...Elias while on the road to his way home thought to himself "Man, why did I even tried to get stories from that type of thing, maybe I shouldn't do... maybe I should go back to being a noman". After many minutes and hours, he arrives at his two story house located between two red house. he enters the garage of his house with his car, he then exit his car, closes the garage, locked his car and goes to the living room then to the kitchen. He pulls out a sirloin meat steak from his fridge and then leaves it out for an hour or two until the steak comes to room temperature then he pat the steak down gently with paper towels. Then, season both sides with salt, honey and pepper, after that he places the steak in a frying pan for seven minutes on HIGH and flips the steak once halfway through. After perhaps 10 minutes, he enjoys his steak and watch an episode of south park. While he was watching the television, he checked up on kitter to see that there was a tag called #homeless. He checked it out and saw that everyone was talking about the homeless man in the street. Of course everyone argues it's existence where some say it's real and some say it's staged as a sort of art or an alternate reality game but nonetheless it's appearance and the influence of C.B.N has made it famous. He concluded the next step is to download the recording of the interview to youtube.so he sent the recording to youtube and waited for the fame of the recording. After he uploaded it he continued watching the episode of South park until 8 pm where he shutted off the tv, brushed his teeth, then went to bed at 8 pm and set the alarm clock to 4 am.he closed his eyes and went to sleep. As minutes came by he woke up in a dingy room in a bed. He went out of the bed and then out of the room he saw himself in a hallway that looked like his previous apartment. As he walked by the hallway he hits a wall and turn right in which he saw a lady eating dead rabbits, he walked and tapped on her shoulder, she turn around to see him only to assault and do a no hold barred beatdown against elias who was completely defenseless.elias plan to get the monster away by pretending to be dead and so the woman continue back to eating the remains of the dead rabbits. Elias slowly and silently crawl through the hallway to avoid the brunette blue eyed zombie woman. As elias crawled through more of the apartment hallway aside from the usual door, he found an huge elevator with the size of 10 by 10 in which he thought to himself can ride in then he enters the elevator in which he saw a mannequin with a chainsaw for an arm and a masked man wearing an armor. elias wasting no time and wasting his life starts to enter the elevator in which he saw that he was in the 40th floor the highest floor and also there was no 1st floor instead is replaced with floor 0 so elias pick the floor 0. The elevator then starts to go down, as elias waits for the elevator to reach 0, he hears a chainsaw revving behind him he saw what behind him and quickly dodge the chainsaw. As elias starts to stray away from the chainsaw, he saw the man in the mask, grab him, and use him as a meat shield. the mannequin with the chainsaw running towards elias, elias was struggling against the man in the mask and starts to turn around. As the mannequin with the chainsaw started to attack the man in the mask the man in the mask into two WAS SPLIT IN TWO. The mannequin then tried to slash through elias and only managed to attack his clothes and made a shallow wound in his chest. Then the mannequin starts to attack Elias using the whole extent of its left arm. Elias managed to avoid the attacks barely. The mannequin starts to go wild and attempts to stab elias but elias quickly dodges it's attack and the mannequin's chainsaw arm got stuck inside the elevator walls. The elevator suddenly stopped as both of the mannequin and elias saw the elevator number 26, the elevator door open revealing an inky monster wearing a metal helmet fighting two police officers. The police officers starts to get into the elevator and so does the inky monster. The elevator door was closed as one of the two police officers pull out a taser in which to zap the mannequin but the mannequin wasn't even paralyzed, it made it a lot faster and in turn the mannequin pulls out it's chainsaw from the elevator's wall and headbutt the police officers meanwhile one of the officers blasting electrics and wind out of his bare hands. elias avoiding each attacks from the chaos that is happening inside the elevator as one of the police officer tried to shoot the mannequin to no avail and the mannequin missed mostly of the police officers attack and one of the police officer tried to used both lightning and wind to destroy the inky monster but the inky monster is still prevailing throughout the police officers attack. The chaos raged on until the number seven which made things even worse as the collapsing of the elevator walls started and the elevator became even bigger as the fighting went on. elias eventually gets wounded and tired from dodging and attacks but the police officers never went down as they kept on fighting and fighting the monsters till both the police officers got badly injured and so it goes that one of the police officers launch himself to the air with his wind power and the ink monster goes in the air to dropkick it and once he kicked the monster, the monster simply absorbed him into it's black ink and swallowing him meanwhile the other police officers spawn an assault rifles to destroy the mannequin but the mannequin simply won't go down until he is dead and both the officer and the mannequin died together. he heard the ringing bell of floor 1 in which the spawning of zombie came as the two remaining fight to the last stand. Elias tried to sucker punch the ink monster but it simply dodge away and stab him on the left stomach. Elias wasn't even feeling hurt and so Elias tried to punch away the monster but the monster dodge every attack. He tried to dropkick the monster but it creates a massive hole in itself to avoid getting hurt. elias thought that so long as the monster kept dodging, Elias would just hurt himself. So he dropped to his knees waiting for the monster to kill him. It wasn't until floor 0 which rings the sound of 3 church bells at the same time. Elias woke up to the sound of the alarm clock he chose, which is a blue alarm clock with the sound of church bells. He checked it was 04:30. He also checked on youtube in his phone that the recording that he converted into mp3 by computer and transport into usb and uploaded the files on youtube is deleted. Oh well it isn't like he is interested in those magic and sorcery bullshit anyway. After all he got better things to do like visiting his old man for his birthday, going to the church then working extra hours just so that he could get those sweet sweet cash so that he may live a better life and away from those sorcery bullshit.... Or was he?

Chapter 3

A line between insanity and reality

1. first start the day by cleaning up his bed,
2. cook some ham sandwich and eat the ham sandwich,
3. brush teeth, shower, dress up for the extra work hours and putting the cake that his father liked into his wmb 3Z car and also lock all the doors and crevices in his house for important measures.

So 4th, At 8 am revs up the car to go to uncle rigatoni to tie up some loose ends and get the extra paycheck and off the way to boston.

Finally, then arrive at uncle rigatoni, enter the store, go to the office and start working on how much does uncle rigatoni spend it's money on the last 2 week. Elias crack his knuckles, turn on the computer and start working on the spreadsheet of the journal, the assortment journal and the ledger with the notes he wrote down on monday. He started with making the journal and wrote down the objects and the price that came with it, he checked back and forth until the journal was done and post it onto the big book. Then came next the balance sheet to summarize and statement of the state of uncle rigatoni and the adjusting journal entry to record unrecognized expenses or income during that period. After that he put all them in the ledger and count the expense-profit and the laba-rugi, after he done all of that he checked again if there are anything wrong for the next hour and correcting all of them then closing it on the closing journal then the checking the balance sheet and making on the back journal. After all of that is done and said, he finally get a paycheck from his boss. And on 10:30 he goes to the church to attend a sermon from the priest. During the sermon, the priest talk about the current situation about the revelation of surveillance and how one should prepare to face any situation with words like "The prudent sees danger and hides himself, but the simple go on and suffer for it." And "Therefore, preparing your minds for action, and being sober-minded, set your hope fully on the grace that will be brought to you at the revelation of Jesus Christ." After he attended the sermon for what seems like 2 hours, he checked his phone to chat to his dad that he will come to his house today, he then rev the car engine and set forth to the east of boston. his car move along smoothly on to the asphalt road of the concrete village of north boston. on the road to the east of boston, the traffic seems to be emptier than usual which is surprising not only that the sky seems to get more bluer and the sun shine onto his car and his face. "Gahh...?!" shouted Elias as he suddenly stopped when the sun blinded him. after his untimely stopping of his car, he blinked again and saw an agitated old man screaming at him for almost hitting him. Then elias went out of his car to apologize to the old man and so the old man continued to cross the road. Elias saw that the traffic light goes green and move forward into his father's home in orient hight. After what seems like hours, elias finally arrived in 214 leyden street of orient height. He stopped his wmb 3Z car on the side of the road and walked out of the car with the birthday cake on the plastic bag in his left hand. and he saw to his left, his dad's house or better known arnold's childhood house. Elias then approached the stairs and he approached the red door, he took a deep breath and knocked the door 3 times. Then the door opens to reveal a olive skinned man in his 70s, there were freckles on his forehead, piercing brown eyes that would make even the best of warlords quake in fear, messy and greasy black hair and an almost long beard that is reminiscent of a certain bush bearded german philosopher, his body even after his 70s though look frail also looks strong enough to lift two stone tablets. "Eliash, how are you doing my son!?" asked Philip, the father of Elias, Ezra and Jonah, the husband of Eunice and the son of Noah, also the brother of simon. "Good...good enough to survive outside of boston and not so much to make you proud." answered elias. Philip then stares at elias in an amused manner in which he bursts out laughing. "GAADHAA.....oh..cough....Well that's unusual..," said philip at his own son. "oh well.. hn? what do you have for this thing?" questioned philip, then Elias smugly smile and said "it doesn't even concern both of us". Philip knew some of elias's trick but still, so Philip allowed him to be in their house. as eunice went downstairs to see who it is, she saw her son who she hasn't seen for 13 years. "Elias..." sternly asked Eunice which then made elias looked back in fear in which he was scared to get lectured for another two hours. "Where have you been, son?" eunice asked in glee as her son finally returned back to her. "Well.. um, i've been working as an accountant somewhere in the north end and frankly not everybody in the office liked me so much but overall seems like a pretty go- " Elias was interrupted by his father who states "he isn't rich yet". Eunice was amused by this, sure.. Sure philip doesn't really have a very high standard but even so this is the only time philip has shown any of the highest standard. but not so by elias who then brought the sweets in the plastic bag to the kitchen to avoid embarrassment. "What are you doing" asked eunice. "I'm putting some sweets in the kitchen, come go here" answered elias loudly. the his parents came to see the cake of those kinds banana, chocolate, strawberry all of those flavors (Metaphorically) combine to make those types of cakes that his grandfather tell story to him during elias's childhood. "Where did you get all of these sweets, elias?", philip asked his son in bafflement and happiness. "At johas & ed bakery" Elias replied. Then philip the father of elias approached his son and gave him a big tight bear hug "الشخصيات، لقد صنعوا مثل هذه الكعكة الرائعة" Philip says out loud. "Yeah, yeah i know.. I know,now dad wait in the living room i'll prepare stuff." philip and eunice went out of the kitchen and Then arnold puts the candle onto the cake and the edible number 7 and 2 on the cake around the cake. He then light up the candle and let in his father as elias and eunice sing a rendition of the happy birthday song which sounds like ass and angelic in philip's ears "Happy birthday philip, Happy birthday philip.. Happy birthday happy birthday happy 72th PHIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIP".so when the song is over philip blows all of the candle so hard that the number fell onto the cake and arnold slice the cake with the kitchen knife into 5 pieces. 1 for his dad 1 for his mother 1 for him,so after the cutting of the cake came the consumption of the cake on the dinner table after the three of them pray.So as his father and mother cut down the cake and eat it nicely and tidely...Not so much for their child as he cut down the the cake in half and shoving one by one slice into his mouth,sloppily eating and guzzling down the water bottle to clear the throat from the choking from the huge piece of cake.....

"Hooh...that was some good shi-" Says elias relieved but his father stopped it "Language elias....WE do not swear words like that" but eunice also points out something else "Philip,you once swear a thousand words when your son got beaten up by a kid in school and you swore vengeance against that child and his family" in which philip wishes that small child to be tortured by the devils and elias thought of how in the world is his dad is not in prison et not because he wish infinite pain upon the child mind you or even the swearing..... Anyway.... Elias then told his father to not consume the candle again because this time it's made out of kush. "ELIAS,WHY Didn't you tell me BEFORE?" Screamed Philip to Elias. As philip is about to rant, Eunice shuts him down by calmly telling him to go to the living room but philip punch the kitchen wall so hard that the paint fall and eunice and elias waits for him to calm down "in the name of jesus christ lord almighty, WHY?!" philip goes to the living room and both eunice and elias followed him to the living room as philip watch tv, and as elias sat the two of them except eunice who just sat in the red chair starts talking with elias about how is his life in salem was and philip is focused on what he saw on the television of a news specifically a long haired blonde tv news anchor talking about a pendant the police founded a day ago on a homeless man. That is in which she told about how the police found the homeless man by a photograph send by a pizzeria accountant which causes elias to suddenly look at the tv which interrupting a conversation between him and his mom about his working place now by this now elias is focusing on the tv and is now surprised at the news which made eunice all the more weirdened out by the whole situation of this.. Not only because of the homeless man who was photographed but also because of how the police chief talks about how the pendant could talk by talking with it. "What is with all this bullshit the media is talking about right now?" she said silently to herself. But unfortunately, elias could hear it too but fortunately decided not to ask it because he'll eventually dig his own grave if he even asked about being involved into all of it, eventually philip called out this news this is bullshit, clearly it's all just a prank by some pretentious art student. So Elias, being himself, decided that the best course of action is to leave the house and promise both of his parents to come back someday again. So the first thing elias do is telling his mom something, "Ma this has been a wonderful albeit a short birthday and beside, we forgot to pray.." which then make eunice turn off the tv and then have elias and hers sit on the couch and philip on the fancy chair. So they commenced the praying by saying of in the name of the holy trinity and then pray for the thankfulness of this birthday of the everything going well and praying for the hope that philip as he grow older become more wiser, happier and lived long enough then they end it with the lord's prayer and hail mary. after the prayer, eunice then clean up the table, elias cleaning the plate and philip receiving message of happy birthday from his brothers through whats app

Ezra: -Hey, Abba, imma, elias, look at this shipwreck we found around the mediterranean sea!

-Also HBD, elias, Hope you be a better man

Jonah: -Fucking Hell, DEBT, FUCK FIORA, THAT BITCH

-happy birthday elias, i hope things are better on your side

And also from that one guy elias talked to and never again in middle school

Simon: -Happy birthday youngboy, i hope you eat shit

and so after cleaning the plate, the eating utensil and help cleaning the table. Elias then parted and said goodbye to his parents, rode his car and started the journey back to salem. He started the car and failed.... He started the car again with the revving sound of the car and star the car again with the repeated sound of the reaving until the car's engine roars with the car's UI lighting up. Elias put the pedal to the metal and start to ride back to salem as he turns on the sad FM on the radio. While at that as in Elias passing through the night, The star shine through the sky, the night sky is of the warm color, For a moment now as he arrived in summer street, A loud roar is along somewhere. He couldn't figure it out but it's from somewhere, oh well the horrors of the unknown can't scale with the fear of getting the key lost as elias frantically try to find the car keys in the pocket until he remembered an emergency makeshift key made by his neighbor was He the rug in case he lost it but he didn't. he Pull the rug off and found out the key, IT'S NOT THERE, ITS OV-oh wait, elias suddenly remember that his house key was in his car, so wahoo he search in the car cabinet and found out the garage door opened.... He thought that his house is getting robbed but before that, he parked his car inside and locked the garage door with the unsurprisingly not broken yet keypad, then go inside the house only to listen to the singing of a tune, in which he goes to the living room as he comes and sees a man. Vague age but probably around his forties to fifties, he's disgustingly fat, he's pale but not too white, Dirty grease jet black short hair, wearing a black polo shirt reminiscent of the rich white neoliberal guys, he's delightfully waiting for elias, hands on his laps, everything on the living room, looks now tidy, probably the man's doing.

*:sing to the tune of "Oh funny how the seas goes round"

To continue on, there's probably a chance that the man's probably a home invader or something worse...

"Ah, Elias, Come sit here" asked the beast, how did he know his name and certainly did that guy Is an BSC agent who came to recruit him. Elias must know what's the deal with this guy? So elias sat down and listen intently....

"As you can here, i am from the galen party and you vote for one of our governor, matthias svelton, Former Head treasury of the debardeur union and a father of two kids or twins as his wife said” the man said words again, speaking of a major he had no idea about

“Matthias as you know once said in an interview that the reason he go to the Union was that other options are letting the conditions in the mine kill the worker including his brother” as he said again, about more of Matthias

Elias listens attentively, He ,This matthias guy, chose to go to the Union because of his brother,What a man he is,If Elias were ever to be Matthias,He would’ve not because he HATES his sibling. He listens more to the man about the Washington party.

“Anyway,Matthias joins the washington party due to the increasing polarizing behavior of the two most prevalent party of the united state, The republican and democrat party” he said again

“This party is created however as a result of many upper middle class workers and few intellectuals working together integrating Washington values with progressive ideals to make America american.” He said again with more political jargon that before

“And also since your boss is also a member of the Massachusetts middle and lower class worker unions, He recommended you who is an upper middle class accountant to join the washington party and also the washington party is pro union,So would you like to become a member of the union? ” The man asked to join their Union

“I’ll give it a few days to think about it,it’s good yeah but I do want to weigh the risk too” Elias, now confused, is thinking whether to join their band of union workers or to stay in his life lane.

So disappointed with the answer yet at least he could join,Well time to go at least the man beast is thinking right now.So now he stopped the recording mic plugged into his suit and bid farewell to elias and closed the door.

Oh well,Elias locked all the door again just to make sure no intruder and including HIM not going into his house without his consent.

So now all he got to do now was to-

Bang!!1

“Holy shit” Elias pissed himself in fear as a bullet came through the window. Where did that come from? know what, fuck it call the police,911,emergency must be called.

“911,what is your emergency”

“YEAH,i think somebody or something fired a bullet onto my house and i think they’re trying to kill m-”

It almost hit his head,The bullet just grazed onto the left of his shoulder.

He sighed again and calmly said “Get the police here now,there’s a murderer”

“Please remain calm, emergency security is down the way”

“Goddammit”

Thinking quick, he realized he had a spoke can, he throw it near the window and

Bang!!1

And there goes again, whoever tries to shoot him must have a good shot.

Thinking about it, why did this suddenly happen? Was it because of the amulet? Maybe. All he do know is to wait for the police to come around,he closed his eyes for what is the last moment of his life

Chapter 4

Tartaglia

“With every step.. Two steps, With every breath... Two breaths”

You stepped out of the roof walking inside the house, The target must be there,
You kicked down the door of the front of his house and no....

“He start runningHe start runningHe start runningHe start runningHe start runningHe start runningHe start runningHe start running”

“Shoot him!”

“right in one of his tendon”

“Limping Limping Limping”

You run up to him and put him up on a chokehold.

Elias: elias hazrada yousef

Elias, thou is chosen by me, i am not thy creator

Elias: then, you're who? satan? peter? paul? john? Or mark? Or matthew or jud-

ELIAS, you have been chosen for you that have activated the signal that which search for a new body

Elias: oooooooooooooohh, so you're the old man who slept on the ben-

Yes, the old one is slowly rotting and hard to maintain, i need a new one

Elias: w-wait what?

I need a new host for my continued survival and existence in this planet

Elias: alright, you're a parasite and you need my body to survive

Yes, that's the gist of it, i can't just live alone without a host, i may try but that will leave mine vulnerable to getting crushed

Elias: Soo, what will happen next?

Hide from the patrols..

Elias: Really

Just play the amnesiac

Elias: Seriously? I mean wouldn't it created more problems than solution.maybe we should-

I had an idea

Elias: Go turbo?

GO TURBO! STEALTH!

*Tap *Tap *Tap *Tap *Tap

*Creak

police siren blaring

Code 5 code 5 we're looking for assailant

*tap *tap * tap *tap *tap

Elias: Where are we going

Hiding, the police may find a body BUT they'll never find us

Elias: yeah but where, where is it, are we really going somewhere with this

The old house, they'll never find us there

Elias: wait wait where is it

Northern coast. Abandoned neighborhood,ghost town, they wont really suspect a thing .

Elias: what anout me going home, what if they suspect anything? what if they fire m-

Silence, you'll see. Now shall we run

Elias: hmm. You know how about we go TURBO

Hmm, GO TURBO

Elias: SPEED!

HOURS LATER

They finally arrived at what seems to be a ghost town. It's more than decrepit, it looks like the manifestation of hell itself, the homes are run down, so much that some look like they would rather house insects and animals rather than made for human beings, all of it are decrepit save for one that looks actually decent. So much for this, in the land of the blind the one eyed is king.

Huh, who is talking here? You? Again.... Narrator we meet again

A new host you have? Shame if he suffers a bad fate just like those before him

Don't worry, he'll be taken good care of

I trust you for now... until then goodbye

Elias: Jesus.... Looks like hell in here... are you sure this is good for me?

Yes, For the time being of course

Elias: Ok what about food, electricity and the house

I assure you that you will have a decent quality of life and it's all prepared

Elias: Wait you told prepared this all for me?

It's less prepared and more on the move of the decision I made. Nonetheless this will suffice for you in three days

Elias: Alright, any type of outside communication, then?

To address your concern of communication, i think the landline telephone will do the job for you

Elias: Shit , time to call
